Luxton Fire Jumps Guard; 400 Acres Burned

BLAZE BREAKS OUT ANEW BUT DANGER TO HOMES PASSES

Great Area Burned by Forest Blaze Which Menaced Thickly-populated Section at Luxton; Night Crew Back Fires to Save Flames From Spreading to Glen Lake and Langford; Families Leave Six Homes, Taking All Household Goods.

At 2 o'clock this afternoon, the Luxton fire, fanned by a stiff wind, was bearing toward Langford and the Humpback Road, according to reports from the scene. Household goods were removed from the home of A. Betts, Glen Lake Road, when a peat fire started nearby.

Meanwhile, as the fire passed, the families of A. W. Weeks and W. H. Locke moved into their homes again on Sooke Road.

Defeating the efforts of a large gang of men who brought the flames under control late last night, the bush fire at Luxton was again out of control to-day and extra men were called in to relieve the crew which had guarded it throughout the night.

Between 400 and 500 acres were burned over yesterday before the blaze was checked. This morning at 10:30 o'clock, under the influence of a steady southwest breeze, the flames jumped the fire-guard and started to eat into new timber.

Six homes, in the path of the flames, were vacated by their owners yesterday afternoon and evening. All movable goods were taken out and loaded on trucks and automobiles.

The houses were those of Mrs. N. Jones, G. G. Legg, W. H. Locke, A. W. Weeks, W. F. A. Hudson, and Rani Garrett.

Only a miracle saved the home of Mrs. Jones from complete destruction. Flames on all sides licked the trees which almost touched the roof and patches of shingle were burned but a fire-guard around the walls saved the house.

Beyond burns sustained by the fire-fighters, telephone lines and residents from the threatened homes, no personal injuries were suffered.

SHEEP LOST IN FLAMES
Several sheep belonging to Mr. Lock were lost in the flames yesterday.

A barn owned by R. Bray was gutted. Present danger from the fire is mostly in the direction of the summer settlements at Glen Lake and Langford. Back-firing in the hills was undertaken by a crew of thirty-five men which was on guard and it was hoped to prevent the flames from spreading northward to these points.

WIND INCREASING
The flames jumped the fire-guard at its northeastern point this morning and a southwest wind, blowing at fifteen miles an hour, was fanning the blaze.

Meanwhile, at the main Sooke Highway was stopped. Cars were detained by way of Metehosh, the Kangaroo Road and Humpback.

NEW ZEALAND MINISTRY IS UPHELD ON HOUSE TEST VOTE

Wellington, N. Z., July 31.—By a vote of 42 to 28 the House of Representatives to-day sustained the Government of Premier Forbes, defeating a hostile amendment moved by Rt. Hon. J. O. Coates, leader of the opposition. The Labor Party members, who hold the balance of power between the two main parties, voted with the government. The amendment was directed against the government's proposals with regard to taxation, which the opposition considered to be badly planned and inequitable. Mr. Coates stated he was moving the amendment as an early protest against the programme of the government and not with a view to securing the return of his own party to power.

Engines of Spanish Ss. Legazpi Put Out of Order By Collision

Gibraltar, July 31.—The British India Steamship Company's steamer Nerbudda was checked this morning at 10:30 o'clock, under the influence of a steady southwest breeze, the flames jumped the fire-guard and started to eat into new timber.

The Nerbudda reported by wireless she might be able to keep afloat while the Legazpi, said her engines were out of commission.

Salvage steamers rushed from Gibraltar to the assistance of the disabled vessels.

The Nerbudda is a vessel of 4,928 tons and the Legazpi of 2,593 tons.

FIRE FIGHTING COSTS ALARM COWICHAN AREA

North Cowichan Council Protests Provincial Withdrawal of Protection

Legality of Abandonment Order By Hon. F. P. Burden Challenged

Special to The Times
Duncan, July 31.—Alarmed at the prospect of having to meet heavy charges for forest fire protection, the North Cowichan Municipal Council has instructed municipal officials to secure estimates of the cost of plant and trained personnel required to replace the provincial forest protection service, withdrawn this year by order of Hon. F. P. Burden, Minister of Lands.

On Tuesday evening the council devoted most of the session to discussion of the grave situation created. Those present were Reeve Tiedall, Councillors C. H. Price, R. Coates, T. J. Pauli and J. Buckmaster. It was pointed out that the annual cost for actual fighting fire could be expected to range from $500 up to $5,000, and could not be provided for in advance.

IDLE INVESTMENT
In addition North Cowichan would be compelled by the Minister of Lands to invest a substantial sum in special forest fire fighting apparatus of no use for other purposes, and must also add to the municipal payroll two or more men trained in fighting forest fires, and possessing the gift of directing large bodies of unskilled labor under difficult conditions.

GUTHRIE MAY BE FEDERAL JUSTICE HEAD

Maurice Dupre, Quebec M.P. Elect, Mentioned as Bennett's Solicitor-General

Five, Including Premier Anderson, Mentioned in Saskatchewan Discussion

Ottawa, July 31.—With no prospective minister yet summoned to the capital, speculation on the make-up of the new Conservative administration was led by Hon. R. B. Bennett continues.

The portfolio of Agriculture may go to Earl W. E. Rowe, Dufferin-Simcoe. Mr. Rowe was Conservative whip in committee for several sessions, and during the recent campaign he spoke at a number of points in western Canada before returning to his own riding in Ontario. In addition to being a farmer, Mr. Rowe is a livestock breeder.

GUTHRIE AND DUPRE
Hon. Hugh Guthrie, South Wellington, Ont., may be appointed Minister of Justice. In that event, the post of Solicitor-General may go to Maurice Dupre, Quebec West. Mr. Guthrie was Solicitor-General in the war-time Unionist government and afterward Minister of National Defence. When a Conservative administration was formed in 1922, he was allotted the old portfolio of National Defence. Mr. Dupre has not yet previously in the House of Commons, but is well known in Quebec.

Brig.-General A. E. Ross, Kingston, Ont., is mentioned for recognition. In parliamentary circles the name of E. H. Stinson, K.C., Lindsay, Ont., member-elect for Victoria, Ontario, is frequently heard. Mr. Stinson will sit for the constituency which sent the late Sir Sam Hughes, wartime Minister of National Defence, to parliament, and has played a prominent part in the ranks of the party.

Session Will Be One of Last Before Bennett Cabinet Takes Office

CANADIAN PRESS
Ottawa, July 31.—To-morrow members of the King Cabinet will gather for one of the last meetings of the present administration. It is not anticipated that any important business will be transacted. Any other business involving questions of policy will also stand for the present. On the other hand, there is always certain routine business in connection with the administration which must be done by Order-in-Council, and this will probably be dealt with at to-morrow's meeting and at subsequent meetings Mr. King may call.

ANNOUNCEMENT AWAITED
Just when Mr. Bennett will be prepared to take over the government is still indefinite. However, the present Prime Minister has expressed his willingness to do so.

Another Millionaire Seeks Dream Isle Here

"And Perhaps Some Day the Right Girl Will Come Along to Make Everything Complete," Says Wealthy Los Angeles Sportsman, Cruising Puget Sound in Power Boat.

The eyes of millionaires from all parts of the United States are turning more and more longingly to Vancouver Island and the numerous small islands that dot the Puget Sound and lower British Columbia coast. Every summer brings its influx of wealthy persons from south of the line to look at and eventually acquire some of the land in the Pacific Northwest with its attractions of fishing, yachting and magnificent scenery.

Last year there were several purchases of large areas of land near Victoria, and to-day word came to Victoria that another millionaire is searching for an island near Victoria on which he hopes to erect what he calls his "dream castle."

He is Leigh Hackley Smith, millionaire Los Angeles sportsman. In his sixty-five-foot power boat the Stella Marie, Mr. Smith sailed into Puget Sound last April from the south, and since that time has been cruising Alaska waters. He is now in Seattle and intends to set out in a few days to cruise among the islands of the Gulf of Georgia to pick out an island where he will build

Where Earthquake In Italy Killed Thousands

Left—The wide area in south-central Italy which was devastated by earthquakes is indicated on this map. The disaster apparently centred about Melfi, where 100 were known to be dead. Rescue work there was hampered by the destruction of roads and bridges leading to the city. Two-thirds of the population of Villanova—before the quake a town of 3,000—was wiped out. The metropolis of Naples, less seriously affected than some of its sister cities, was the headquarters for relief work in the stricken area, where upward of 3,700 lives were reported to have been lost in the most serious earth shocks since the tragedy at Messina in 1908, when 76,842 persons were killed. Above—The historic city of Montecassino, pictured here, its buildings set like jewels in a hillside, was reported to be half destroyed in the earthquake which claimed more than 3,700 lives in south-central Italy. In this city, visited every year by hundreds of tourists, the death toll was placed at 300, with hundreds of persons injured and unable to obtain adequate medical assistance.

TELEVISION OF PLAY IS SUCCESS

Special Times Correspondence
London, July 31.—The day when people "look-in" as well as "listen-in" by wireless has arrived. The first play, "The Man With the Flower in His Mouth," was picked up and broadcast all over the British Isles and to many cities of the continent. The play was carefully selected as being one requiring practically no physical action in its presentation. The lines spoken by the three characters were sufficient to carry it along.

The technique of the televised play is still in the experimental stages. Owing to the limitations of the apparatus only the head and shoulders of a single character, or other parts of his body such as his hands may be broadcast, and the range is such that no great "depth" in a scene may be obtained. In the recent successful experiment the play was carefully selected as being one requiring practically no physical action in its presentation. The lines spoken by the three characters were sufficient to carry it along.

The various sequences were separated by the momentary passing before

studio, and saw and heard the action of the players as though they were in the same room.

FIELD GROWS WIDER
It was the first time that a "night and sound" broadcast of a play had been accomplished in Great Britain. It marked the culmination of many months of patient experimentation by the technical men of the Baird organization, which is a pioneer in television. The fact that the experiment was a successful brings appreciably closer the day when anyone may sit in his own home and enjoy by means of wireless a night-and-sound broadcast of a hockey match, a play or any public event taking place hundreds of miles away. Indeed, if the present rate of progress in wireless broadcasting continues it may well be that people in Victoria a few years hence will be able to see and hear, for instance, the trouping of the colors in London and the finals at Wimbledon as they are taking place, and as clearly as though they were at the Horse Guards' Parade or the Centre Court.

TOO SMALL AS YET
At the present stage of development the image as seen on the screen of the television apparatus is small, in fact somewhat less than a foot square. The characters, however, may be seen quite clearly and the movements of their lips are perfectly synchronized with the sound of their voices coming from the loud speaker. This problem of synchronization was for several years the principal stumbling block to commercial television. That problem is a problem no longer. Now the engineers of the Baird laboratories are experimenting with a view to the enlargement of the image and its projection on a screen. Great progress has already been made toward that end and the technical difficulties are at the moment practically overcome. With the solution of this problem the simultaneous projection on a screen of a "talking picture" of outdoor events and plays taking place hundreds of miles away will be as common as orinary wireless reception of sound is to-day.

When atmospheric interference with the broadcast the image in the television was blurred by what appeared to be a flurry of snow. Oscillation caused it to burst into a thousand fragments which quickly reassembled themselves when the disturbance was past.

NEW MAKE-UP
Special make-up was also necessary for the three actors whose features were put on the air. In the small studio in Longacre they looked like so many waiting corpses, their faces were painted a sickly greenish-white while the prominent parts of their faces, such as the bridge of the nose, the forehead and the cheeks, were oiled with a sooty black, eye-goggles and moustaches were also accentuated in order to facilitate their broadcasting.

Such a make-up is necessary in order that the light-rays and shadows may be readily picked up by the photo-electric cell, a remote-sense wireless invention which is sensitive to varying degrees of light just as the microphone is sensitive to varying degrees of sound. The television apparatus as devised by Baird, a Scottish scientist, and a pioneer in this field, is already on the market and the enthusiasts in Great Britain and on the continent are already numbered in hundreds. That television has actually arrived as a new development in the field of radio entertainment is indicated by the fact that the British Broadcasting Corporation has been broadcasting from London since the end of March television programmes every day of the week. These have consisted for the most part of sight and sound broadcasts of single artists. The presentation of a play, as

REPORT OF DEATH OF OLD "DUMBELLS" ACTOR IS UNTRUE

Halifax, N.S., July 31.—Ross Hamilton, female impersonator of the old "Dumbells" theatrical troupe, who was reported to have died in Kalamazoo, Mich., yesterday, is about the steership Evangeline, en route from New York to Yarmouth, N.S., according to a telegram received by his sister, Mrs. Henry McKay, at Cove Village, N.S., yesterday. The telegram was from William W. Sears, a mutual friend, living in New York.

SASKATCHEWAN DEBATES ITS CABINET HOPES

Turnbull, MacMillan, Beynon, Anderson and MacPherson Mentioned For Federal Post

Regina, July 31.—Regina, seat of the Conservative Co-operative Government of Saskatchewan under the leadership of Premier J. T. M. Anderson, has become a city of rumors since the Federal election. With Conservative representation in Parliament of Canada for the first time in nineteen years, the political forecasters are bewildered, and the next step in a complete situation is awaited with interest. Paramount is the question of cabinet representation for the province. Three of the most prominent Conservatives elected in the principal cities of Saskatchewan—Frank W. Turnbull, K.C., in Regina, where Hon. Charles A. Dunning, Minister of Finance, was Liberal candidate; F. R. MacMillan, pioneer merchant of Saskatoon, and W. A. Beynon, barrister of Regina, have been mentioned as possible appointees of Hon. R. B. Bennett, Premier-elect. However, this is still a rumor and will be until the Conservative leader announces his selections from Ottawa.

ANDERSON MENTIONED
Another report says Premier Anderson will quit the provincial leadership for a Federal Cabinet position. The Premier, however, has refused to comment and this has added to the confusion of the province.

Another bet for a Federal post is Hon. M. A. MacPherson, K.C., provincial Attorney-General. Mr. MacPherson was even mentioned before election day as a possible choice for the Ottawa post should the Conservatives succeed at the polls.

Then, it has been intimated that should Premier Anderson be the selection, his successor in the provincial leadership would be Mr. MacPherson.

DUNNING GOES EAST
Mr. Dunning's position since his defeat in Regina also keeps the political gossip swirling in the Saskatchewan capital. The Finance Minister is en route to Ottawa, where he will meet Premier King and his cabinet colleagues Friday or Saturday. Will he return to private life, as is rumored, or will a seat be found for him, either in the east or west? It is said he has been offered an executive position with the Wheat Pool. It is also rumored a seat will be found for him in a western constituency. But when Mr. Dunning left here he made no comment. "Nothing for publication," he said.

McRae Mentioned For London Post

Canadian Press
London, July 31.—A report that Maj.-General A. D. McRae of Vancouver, instead of Hon. Vincent Massey, might become Canada's new High Commissioner in Great Britain, received to-day, evoked comment. General McRae is remembered as Quartermaster-General of the overseas forces during the period

Calgary Man Says New Sargon Treatment Strengthened Whole System

When Sargon was introduced in Canada, well-known authorities predicted that it would become one of the outstanding successes of the year, because the discoveries on which the formula was based represented some of the latest findings of medical science. However, little did they realize that this new and modern compound, through its remarkable accomplishments, would become a household word throughout the Dominion within a few months.

Sargon has won this enthusiastic public approval in one way and one way only—by producing results. Results that have proven its true worth time and time again in just such cases as that of John P. Flood, 2210-164 St. W., Calgary, who is a carpenter and a well-known member of the Swedish Lutheran Church. Read what he said:

"This new Sargon treatment is the greatest medicine I ever saw for a person in rundown condition! For over a year I'd been having so much trouble with my stomach. I couldn't eat a meal in peace. My food always soured, giving me heartburn and indigestion. I'd be awake half the night suffering and often got up with such a headache and feeling so weak and dizzy, I could hardly make it. Something must have been wrong with my liver. I was so bilious and constipated all the time, and in spite of all the medicines I tried, just seemed to go from bad to worse.

"But about three weeks ago I got hold of this new Sargon treatment and three bottles of the tonic, along with one bottle of Sargon Soft Mass Pills, have put me back in the best of health. I eat three hearty meals a day, without the least trouble with my stomach; sleep soundly all night long and don't have those headaches or dizzy spells like I used to. I've gained five pounds; my whole system has been strengthened and I feel as if I haven't felt in months.

"The Sargon Soft Mass Pills are the most remarkable laxative I ever used and the only thing that ever got my liver back to working right. I was surprised at how easy they acted, didn't interfere with me working at all, and my bowel are so regular as clockwork. The treatment has made a new man out of me in every way and I can't hardly recommend it.

Sargon may be obtained in Victoria and Vancouver from 'All Owl Drug Stores; in New Westminster from the New's Drug Co., and in Esquimalt from Pulmer's Drug Store.

The team was composed of R. G. Sackrill, captain; H. Wheatley, J. W. Burns, M. Howe and J. Garlock. Lady Thornton also took a hand, presenting the team with several cups won in recent competition. Members of the team were presented to Sir Henry and Lady Thornton by H. J. Page of Montreal, director of the company's investigation department.

Outlines of golf tours for the Rotary Club next month were announced by Rotarian J. H. Fletcher at the club's luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

THE R-100

BEFORE LONG THE R-100, THE BIGgest, speediest and most luxurious air-liner in the world, and the first of her kind to come to Canada will reach her destination. This giant dirigible left her moorings at Cardington at dawn on Tuesday morning and at this writing she is being greeted by cheering thousands on her way over the St. Lawrence from Quebec to Montreal.

Messages radioed from the airship have been reminiscent of the communiques issued by the British Admiralty during the war. To those in charge of the wonder vessel of the air this initial trip from Britain to Canada is just part of the day's business.
Dispatches to the newspapers have been pointedly reserved. They have told an interested public that all aboard were O.K., that the whole company had settled down to the routine business of an ocean crossing, and, with the exception of carefully calculated reports regarding the ship's precise position at a given time and the climatic conditions being met with, and that will be all we will know until the army of newspapermen waiting at St. Hubert get their stories and send them round the world.

However, this trip of the R-100, called an experimental one by her designer and builder, is an intimation to the world that Great Britain does not have to play second fiddle to any nation on earth in aeronautical progress. It is a reminder, too, that it was a British dirigible—the R-34—which blazed the trail for lighter-than-air machines across the Atlantic both ways. That was eleven years ago. Meanwhile the country's experts have not been idle. They have experimented unceasingly. Not a little criticism has been directed to their labors. They have been told that other nations were outdistancing them, that unless they did something to show Germany, for instance, that Britain still could produce a real airship, their country's prestige and traditional reputation in this as well as other fields of human endeavor, would wane rapidly.

Now the designers and builders of the R-100 have demonstrated that they have not been wasting their talents, or their own and the public's money.
Only a few days ago, incidentally, it was made known that Dr. Eckener intends to introduce many of the British giant's features into his new Zeppelin, a tribute from an expert with an outstanding reputation with which everybody already is familiar.

It is not within the province of the layman to foreboding developments of oceanic travel by lighter-than-air machines. But if we may read anything into this successful journey of a monster ship which surpasses anything in the air at present, we at least may say that nothing new in this connection will surprise us very much.

B.C. CABINET PROSPECTS

MR. C. H. DICKIE SAYS THERE IS NO truth in the report that he will resign as member for Nanaimo in favor of Hon. H. H. Stevens, who was defeated in Vancouver, to permit that gentleman to enter the cabinet. He says he has not yet even been approached on the subject.

If Mr. Dickie has not yet been approached in regard to a seat for Mr. Stevens it is a reasonable conjecture that Mr. Stevens has not been approached by Mr. Bennett as a prospective member of his cabinet.
In fact, notwithstanding the Stevens boom in Vancouver, there is some ground for the belief that he will not be taken into the Bennett official family. The relations between the two in recent months have not been altogether harmonious, and Mr. Bennett is not likely to overlook the fact that Mr. Stevens' heavy defeat shows that he is no longer a factor of political influence on this coast. A new prime minister does not want to begin his administration with ministers fresh from defeat when he can get competent men fresh from victory. In British Columbia he has Grote Stirling, member for Yale, who might be good ministerial material.

In any case, if Mr. Bennett found it necessary to appoint one of his defeated followers to his cabinet as minister for British Columbia, his choice would probably fall upon General A. D. McRae, the party's organizer. General McRae was unable to be in his own constituency during the campaign and this must have weakened his chances of winning. Whether he wants the post of minister for British Columbia or not is another matter, but there is little question that he can have this or any other post he may want. He was largely responsible for Mr. Bennett's selection as leader of the party as well as for his elevation to power.

There will not be any rush by private members elect anywhere to resign in favor of prospective cabinet appointees who do not belong to the charmed circle of the elected. There is to be a special session of Parliament shortly and this will mean an indemnity of $4,000 for every member of the Senate and House of Commons who shall attend it. Those who were members of the last Parliament, therefore, will draw the tidy sum of $8,000 for this year of grace. Then, early next year they will draw another $4,000 for the first regular session of the new Parliament. Thus within twelve months our senators and members of the House of Commons will have drawn $12,000 each from the public treasury—and there are 341 of them.
Clearly as far as they are concerned the unemployment problem has been solved, and to the great satisfaction of the Canadian people who emphatically decided that they wanted it that way. The special session of Parliament will cost the country $2,000,000.
We shall hope that so costly a proceeding will be productive of something more substantial than talk, of which we have had plenty in the last few months.

CANADA'S LEGATIONS ABROAD

IF CANADA'S LEGATIONS ABROAD are to be retained, it is to be hoped there is no truth in the report that Hon. Vincent Massey and Hon. Philippe Roy, Canadian Ministers at Washington and Paris respectively, will be expected to resign their important posts as a result of the defeat of the government which appointed them.

Mr. Massey and Mr. Roy have furnished abundant evidence of their outstanding ability and judgment, and if Canada still proposes to be represented at Washington and Paris as well as at other capitals, the new government would weaken the prestige of the Canadian diplomatic corps if it dis-pened with the services of these two distinguished native sons. If such officials become political shuttlecocks, Canada would be made to look foolish.

All this, of course, is subject to the consideration that these offices are to be maintained. It will not be forgotten that Mr. Bennett and many of his followers, not to mention Conservative newspapers, have criticized this policy of Dominion representation abroad on the score of expense. In that case the rumor current may mean that Mr. Massey and Mr.
Roy are merely anticipating a change of policy.

TOO LATE NOW

PROBABLY BECAUSE THE UNEMployment situation seems to be getting worse instead of better in Great Britain, critics of British selling methods in Canada and in other countries are sounding a new warning that unless the Old Country producer bestir himself, his grip on the markets of the world will gradually weaken. The latest structure is contained in a recent report from Mr. F. W. Field, senior British Trade Commissioner in Canada, which the Department of Overseas Trade has just made public. Particular reference is made to what are called "long distance" selling methods, underpayment of agents, and the failure of British manufacturers to adapt themselves to the changing conditions in the Canadian market.

The Financial Times, for long a friend of Canada and an admirer of Canadian progress, seizes upon Mr.
Field's criticisms and says: "The plain fact of the matter seems to be that the British have neglected to cultivate the Canadian market by the adoption of efficient methods of salesmanship and have allowed their American rivals to jump their claim." This important journal also hints that "it is no longer possible to sell goods by correspondence, while it is often difficult to dispose of any large quantity of merchandise through agents on a commission basis." As the report to which we refer was published before the voting on Monday, there is some irony in the concluding observation by the newspaper in question, which reads:

"The Dominion has already done as much as she can reasonably be expected to do in giving British goods a preference which is estimated to mean a trans-ference from American to British exporters of $40,000,000 in trade, and naturally Canadians are now looking to Britain to show some appreciation of this great help in Empire unity."

Concessions which they enjoyed in Canada under the preferential tariff unquestionably might have been exploited to much more advantage by British exporters, while the extension of the preference by the Dunning budget promised a much wider market for commodities from the Old Country. The old and new concessions now will soon disappear, however, and under the Bennett government's high tariff policies
the British manufacturer will have to get along as best he can in the Canadian field on terms which will be the same for him as for foreign countries.

DOWN AND OUT

IF THE COMMUNIST PARTY OF Canada feels it is succeeding in convincing the Canadian people that Russia has discovered the ideal form of government, the complete eclipse of the eight
"red" candidates who ran for Parliament on Monday will bring them very little cheer. In each case the disciple of Lenin found himself at the bottom of the poll.

The soil of Canada is not suitable for the successful germination of Communist seeds. Too many Canadians own their own homes, their motor cars, and the many other things that contribute to the enjoyment of life to permit themselves to be influenced by the pratings of wild visionaries. And those active Communists who are among us may wake up one fine morning to discover their mentors in Moscow have "gone back on them."

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

WILL WORK OUT THEIR OWN ECONOMIC DESTINY
The Manchester Guardian

The Conservative victory will no doubt be hailed by high protectionists here as a reinforcement of their plea. Bennett, they may fairly urge, has taken throughout the election a firmly "realist" attitude. "Let the Empire accommodate Canada fiscally and Canada will strike a bargain." The accommodation in the case of Great Britain would presumably consist of putting a tariff on non-Empire foodstuffs in the interest of Canadian produce. Then, and only then, should Canada consider the desirability of reducing her rates on imported goods. Such is the Conservative argument, encouraged no doubt, by the violence of the present campaign in the same cause which this country is witnessing.

If it had indeed prevailed we might well believe the Canadian electorate is bereft of both sense and sentiment. For it is of the essence of the bond, sentimental as well as sensible, that keeps the nations of the Empire together that each shall work out the economic destiny that seems suited to its resources without threat or condition between one member and another.
Laurier knew that well when in 1897 he granted, without haggling about a quid pro quo, the first measure of preference to Britain. King was as well aware of it when he sought to continue the tradition.

ARE THE BRITISH DOWNHEARTED?

There is no widespread apprehension of an India immediately slipping out of British control and of an Empire on the edge of the abyss. This absence of particular tension in the British atmosphere may only argue a lack of imagination. But in a contest of nerves
the want of imagination is an enormous advantage.
When the Simon Commission, over the signature of all of its five members, states that not a single line in its report was rewritten because of recent developments, it suggests that British phlegm and tenacity are still there to be reckoned with.

Loose Ends

Mr. Cotsworth maintains his old enthusiasm, even in July—Something serious is threatened—and the young are misled.

By H. B. W.

MOSES B. COTSWORTH, who is known all over the world as the chief advocate of a simplified calendar, has lately been in British Columbia on his way to the Orient, where, it is reported, he will try to win the governments of China and Japan to his project. I have always envied Mr. Cotsworth his enthusiasm for calendar simplification, not because I care in the least whether the calendar is simplified or not, but because it must be a wonderful feeling to be so enthusiastic over anything. It must keep a man young and happy to be able to feel that anything of this sort matters. And a man must have an amazing faith in the progress of humanity to believe that a change in the calendar will have the slightest effect on it.

MR. COTSWORTH, of course, is quite right about the calendar. Our present arrangement of varying months is quite absurd, but then, so is everything else in our present scheme of things.
Still, all you can ask of it, while millions of people in the world don't know when their next meal is coming from, and civilized nations are busy preparing to destroy themselves in the next war, a few days added to or taken from the months here and there somehow fall to make a man froth at the mouth. Besides, much more absurd than our calendar is our method of measurement of distance, of weight and of space. We have adopted the sensible metric system in our currency so that any man can multiply by ten, a hundred or a thousand, simply with the addition of a cipher or two. But when it comes to distance, weight and space
we go through endless involved calculations with our inches, feet, yards, pounds and acres, which were originally devised by some thwarted mathematician as a revenge against the world. But it is much easier to leave them and the calendar the way they are, even if you have to recite that old rhyme about "Thirty days hath September" and so on, every time you want to know where you stand, it is more comfortable to leave thirty-one days in July than to take one of them out. It is always too hot in July for these agencies of constructive thought.

I ALWAYS HESITATE to say anything about any government or any issue of practical politics, lest someone interprete that I have some views on public affairs, which would be unworthy indeed in a column of this sort. Still, I feel I must refer once more to the rather uninteresting but important subject of the maple trees of Parliament Square. When this column first called attention to the dying condition of these trees there was reported to be a great bustle and alarm on the part of the Provincial Government, and we were solemnly assured that something would be done about the trees instantly. The full weight of the government, which is not inconsiderable, would be thrown into the salvation of the trees, it was indicated. Well, I have seen no evidence of anything of the sort so far. The Government continues to govern and the trees continue to die, and I find the latest evidence more distressing than the former.

I SHOULDN'T BE surprised, however, if this column had misrepresented the whole situation, nor do I think the public will be amazed at such a thing.
This column said the trees were dying of starvation because no new earth was provided for them. Now I am informed by botanical friends that a grave disease is afflicting all the maples of British Columbia and has killed many fine trees on the Mainland. If this be true, it is a more serious matter than starvation, even though the government's failure to do something about the trees instantly, the full weight of the government, which is not inconsiderable,
would be thrown into the salvation of the trees, it was indicated. Well, I have seen no evidence of anything of the sort so far. The Government continues to govern and the trees continue to die, and I find the latest evidence more distressing than the former.

AT THIS SEASON, when many young men have left school to look for jobs, the press of the United States, with friendly feeling for Canada, offers money to help them. Most of them are the habits of employers in hiring young men. Thus it is represented that one very high-powered captain of American industry starts asking the applicant for a job the usual questions and then breaks off with "Have you got a match?" If the applicant says "No, sir" without reaching in his pockets, or if he reaches in a certain pocket and produces a match immediately, he passes the test. If he fumbles around from pocket to pocket,
as any polite man will do in an effort to oblige, he fails. The employer's theory is that a man who has a definite and habitual pocket for the accidentals he normally carries is not likely to make an efficient worker.

ANOTHER GREAT business man just sits and looks at the applicant with a kind of silly smile and asks him what he usually talks. They usually talk themselves out of a job, as any man would under such conditions. And it is recalled that a great New York department store owner used to make all boys seeking a job open a parcel and judge their mentality by the way they did it. If they took the parcel open and threw the string and paper aside, they were hired; if they untied it quietly and neatly folded the paper, they got no job. This was rather sound, for while the average man would take the neat and tidy boy, this sagacious employer wanted no fellow whose organization wanted their time on unnecessary details. All this is very useful in making young men believe that business is always con-

THE PRICE WE PAY

To the Editor:—The election is over and some of the results are already apparent. As the Dunning budget was passed before the public, seeking to secure market in Britain for Canadian surplus farm and other products, let us look for a moment at the results of the election. The results of the election are the results of the election.
The results of the election are the results of the election. The results of the election are the results of the election. The results of the election are the results of the election.
The results of the election are the results
of the election. The results of the election
are the results of the election. The results of the election are the results of the election.

Monday is the election, and on Tuesday the world at large knowing the result, wheat fell two cents per bushel. On Wednesday as the election results are more fully known, wheat fell six cents, and one-half cent, making six and one-half cents for two days. Wheat which was previously on a losing value to the farmer, now becomes a drug and the end is not yet known as the new crop is already coming in. On a basis of, say four hundred millions of bushels, the drop of one cent, the fall in price already means four millions of dollars for each farmer in Canada. This on wheat alone in the first two days.

handled.

TELEVISION PATENTS RELEASED BY R.C.A.

Licensees Offered Right to Exploit Home Talkies and Related Devices

Company Hopes to Spur Progress; Super-heterodyne License Extended

The Radio Corporation of America announced that it was throwing open the door of radio research and development of new apparatus for electrical entertainment in the home, including television, to all of its receiver licensees, so that they may share in the progress expected within the next few years.

The super-heterodyne circuit based upon the second harmonic principle invented by Major Edwin H. Armstrong during the World War is included in the license extension. This set and its patents, which have been closely held by the Radio Corporation, will now be made available to other manufacturers who hold the necessary license.

Already the R.C.A. Westinghouse, Graybar and General Electric Company have announced that they will introduce a new super-heterodyne using four screen-grid tubes, heretofore not employed in the super-heterodyne. The new circuit is said to be four times as sensitive as the former models and three times as selective. Production of these instruments is now under way at the Camden plant. The set also is equipped with a device which enables the listener to regulate the tone to suit his own ears. It is expected that other licensees will adopt the super-heterodyne circuits now that they will have the opportunity to work under the proper license.

TELEVISION PROGRESS LOOKED FOR

The R.C.A. patents covering other broadcast receivers, such as super-regeneration, patents on television receivers and on home talkies, are included in the new plan, heralded in radio as "a new open-door policy" which, it is believed, will do much to bring peace and closer co-operation among allied interests and competitors in the radio industry.

"The new licensees will permit those who hold manufacturers' receiver licenses granted by the Radio Corporation of America to utilize the super-heterodyne principle in radio-telephone broadcast receivers and also other types of receiver circuits with respect to which the Radio Corporation of America has patent rights," said O. S. Schaffner, vice-president in charge of patents. "In addition, the enlarged licensees will include rights for radio-broadcast television receivers and apparatus for reproducing pictures and talking pictures for use in homes."

"Although of the opinion that television apparatus has not yet been developed to the stage where it is practical for general use in homes, we have decided to extend our licensees at this time to include such apparatus because of its relation to radio-telephone broadcast receivers and in order to stimulate the further development of the art. We are also ready to share with our licensees our patent rights pertaining to talking pictures for the home as well as the super-heterodyne, super-regeneration and other types of radio-telephone broadcast receivers."

"By extending to radio manufacturers the results of extensive research and development work, we believe that a healthy stimulus will be given to the further development of the radio art."

OFFERED TO 32 MANUFACTURERS
The new licenses were offered to the licensees in letters mailed last Friday. No mention was made of the royalties. It was learned on good authority, however, that no increase in the present royalty rate is contemplated. The licensees pay a fixed percentage on what they make and sell. The current royalty rate is reported to be 1 1/2 per cent. Thirty-two manufacturers have been offered the extended license, including Grigsby-Grunow of Chicago, which recently filed a suit against the Radio Corporation of America at Kansas City, alleging the existence of an illegal patent pool in violation of the Sherman Act.

Several days ago Senator C. C. Dill distributed pamphlets dealing with the text of a petition of Attorney-General William D. Mitchell for "the dissolution of the radio trust," filed in the United States District Court at Wilmington, Del., May 13.

Senator Dill characterized this move as "a petition for the dissolution of the biggest combination of this kind in the history of the country."

The Government asked that the court decree that the combination and the alleged attempt to monopolize interstate trade and commerce in radio communication and apparatus were in violation of the Sherman Anti-trust Law.

Senator Dill said that the destruction of the benefits of the patent system would be inevitable if those who abused it to create illegal monopolies were permitted to continue to protect their infringements of the law under pretence of patent rights.

David Barnoff, president of the R.C.A., who is on his way to Europe, has explained that what has been done in obtaining rights under the patents of others has been necessary to the establishment of modern radio, which could not otherwise have been established lawfully or brought to its present condition.

Anemia Deaths Cut By Liver Diet

The death rate from pernicious anemia among the white industrial policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has shown a marked and consistent decline since the results of a liver diet for persons suffering from that disease were first announced in 1926, according to a statistical bulletin recently published by the company.

Between 1926 and 1929, in the age periods between fifty-five and seventy-four years, a reduction of forty-three per cent was recorded in the mortality of white males and fifty per cent for white females, while in every age group a clear-cut decrease was registered in the 1929 death rate as compared with that of 1926, the bulletin states.

The value of the company's analysis of pernicious anemia mortality rests on the fact that the white industrial policyholders alone total 16,500,000 and thus in themselves form an accurate cross-section of the general population of the United States and Canada.

"Whether the use of liver or liver extracts will result in a permanent lowering of the death rate," the bulletin

CREDIT MEN PREDICT EARLY TRADE RISE

Tide Will Turn in Two, Three or Six Months, Association Says

New York, July 31.—A revival of business by early fall is foreseen by the research department of the National Association of Credit Men, which sent a special bulletin to its member firms throughout the country yesterday, urging them to maintain the strict credit discipline developed in recent months even after business resumes its interrupted upward course.

Admitting that there have been many mercantile failures in the early months of 1930, the bulletin asserts that "there may even be a little good in this ill-wind of insolvency." It urges credit executives to plan now for the time when business gets back to normal so that they can take advantage of the elimination of weak accounts.

"During the last eight months there has been a lot of water squeezed out of the stock market, but also—and probably more important for business—there has been a lot of air squeezed out of the credit structure," the bulletin says.

"The volume-mad plungers of yesterday have been forced to realize the fundamental importance of credit. Risks have been analyzed more carefully during recent months and credit passed under more judicious scrutiny than at any time during the last several years."

"Many a good merchant has gone down in the storm, but the great majority of those who have been eliminated from business this year would have failed anyhow within a short time. A great many shaky accounts, the 'weak sisters' of the merchandising game, who have been hanging on to losing enterprises by virtue of the credit backing of their wholesale suppliers, have faded out of the picture."

"When the tide turns, in two months or three months, or six months, credit managers will do well to see that these weak accounts are not replaced by others of their kind. They might well resolve now that the slack which has been taken up during the recent dark days shall not be lost, that the discipline developed in the observance of terms shall be maintained, and that credit standards shall be kept high when business resumes its interrupted upward course."

Three Girls Are Hurt in Explosion

North Vancouver, July 31.—Three young girls were injured, two seriously, at Squamish, thirty miles north of here, yesterday, when dynamite they had found in a shack, exploded.

The children, Margaret Peterson, aged fourteen, Lenora Tom, aged fourteen, and Thelma Olson, aged four, were rushed by motorboat and automobile to the North Vancouver General Hospital.

Margaret Peterson, the most seriously injured, may lose the sight of both eyes, and is suffering from leg and arm injuries and several bruises. Lenora Tom has both legs broken and bruises. The Olson tot is suffering from a possible fracture of one leg.

For use in model airplanes compressed air motors of six and eight cylinders and weighing only four and six ounces, respectively, have been developed.

FOUR NEW SERIES OF STRAIGHT EIGHTS ..... VALVE-IN-HEAD, OF COURSE ..... NEW SYNCRO-MESH TRANSMISSION*

NOW McLaughlin-Buick announces four straight-eights, noteworthy developments of the basic McLaughlin-Buick Valve-In-Head design and construction.

Roll along at usual speeds—accelerate to 60 miles per hour—surely, smoothly and quietly, like the swell of the sea. Then to still higher speed, if you need, and again feel that forward surge! Throughout the entire speed range you will experience no increased noise, harshness or sense of effort. The mighty power of this engine expresses itself merely as a quiet murmur. Now you may experience an unusual performance with quietness and comfort.

New Syncro-Mesh Transmission

The new costly and luxurious Syncro-Mesh Transmission, found on the longer wheelbase series makes gear changing so easy and so noiseless that it actually gives a new thrill to driving. From first to second, to third at the flick of a finger—and then back to second again, should driving conditions call for it.

Oil Temperature Regulator

Vital needs of perfect engine operation and long life are satisfied by the Oil Temperature Regulator. Water in the cooling system is utilized to maintain engine oil at correct temperatures. When starting in cold weather, the oil is brought promptly to the most efficient operating temperature. It is likewise cooled on hot days and during long periods of high speed operation. There are no moving parts to wear or require attention in this new, exclusive McLaughlin-Buick feature, which is peculiarly adapted to Canadian weather conditions.

Insulated Bodies by Fisher

Bodies by Fisher are now insulated, like a fine home, against heat, cold and noise. The body is designed as a unit with the chassis, which has been doubly strengthened without increase in weight. The resulting roadability and train-like sureness of tread allow high speeds with greater comfort and a supreme sense of safety.

Intake Silencer

The new Intake Silencer, combined with the air-cleaner, operates effectively to eliminate hissing and other noises noticed particularly during the acceleration period.

This new Straight Eight includes a large number of additional mechanical and constructional features of great merit. Even as McLaughlin-Buicks of former years have been noted for superb performance and sterling worth, so their lineal successor, this great Straight Eight pushes on to newer and finer records.

There are four series, ranging in price from $1290.00 f.o.b. Oshawa, Ontario. The 8-50 series brings McLaughlin-Buick quality and worth within the reach of almost every motorist.

Purchase is made easier through the GMAC, General Motors' own deferred payment plan, and the General Motors Owner Service Policy assures your complete and continued satisfaction.

WOMAN WINS CURIOUS SUIT
Awarded $1,700 Against Cunard Line Over Baby's Birth

New York, July 31.—A curious claim has been brought against the Cunard Steamship Company in the American courts. An American woman in 1927 was expecting to have a baby, and wanted it to be born in the United States, in order to avoid any question as to its nationality.

She went on board the Cunard liner Auronia at Cherbourg with a view to travelling to New York, but the doctor declined to allow her to travel by the vessel, on the ground that she was an expectant mother. The baby was born in London a month later; the lady sued the Cunard Steamship Company for $150,000 damages for the wrong they had done her and the court has awarded her $1,700.

PRETTY SUMMER WEDDING HELD AT ST. JOHN'S

Miss Catherine A. Brown Becomes Bride of Frederick O. Hole at Evening Ceremony

Unusually pretty decorations marked the marriage at St. John's Church yesterday evening of Catherine Aleen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Brown, 824 King's Road, and Frederick Owen, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Hole, 527 Burnside Road. Shasta dahies, roses and daisies in the pastel shades were arranged before the chancel rails; and during the service the bride and groom stood beneath a silver horse-drawn canopy, with a floral arch supported with rambling roses and daisies. The guest pews were tied with rosettes of sweet peas in pastel shades.

Rev. Canon F. A. P. Chadwick performed the ceremony in the presence of a large congregation. To the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" played by G. Jennings Burnett, the bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore an ankle-length gown of ivory French chiffon with tight bodice and long sleeves of lace, and V-neck edged with pearl trimming, which also encircled the waistline. The skirt had godets of lace and was finished with a hem piped in silver. Her veil of fine tulle embroidered in silver was worn with a Russian coronet of pearls and orange blossoms. Her bouquet was a shower of bridal roses and sweet peas, and she wore a platinum and diamond pendant.

Miss Bernice Dewar, the only bridesmaid, was gown in shell-pink georgette with an ankle length skirt, two small boucans below the waist, and a round-necked bodice with puff sleeves. A large bow of soft mauve satin ribbon at the back of the waist, and clusters of tiny mauve and pink French flowers on each hip completed the frock. She wore a hat of pink mohair and organza with a bow and long ends of mauve ribbon, and carried a bouquet of sweet peas and carnations.

Little Irene Brown, sister of the bride, was a dainty flowergirl in a sleeveless dress of Nile green silk trimmed with tiny stars with long ends of pink in green beaded ribbon. She wore a frilly cap of green organza and carried a basket of rosebuds. The ring-bearer was Master Leslie Skippy in a suit of fine white flannel with short trousers, and a satin front with a Peter Pan collar, who carried the ring on a white satin cushion. The best man was Harold Whitefield, and the ushers, Sydney Feldon and Roy Clement.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, which was fringed with masses of flowers. The bride and groom received the guests in the drawing-room under a silver chandelier suspended from an arch of delphiniums and greenery, flanked with standard baskets filled with tall mixed blooms. They were assisted by Mrs. Brown in an ensemble of rose helix satin and radium lace and hat of ecru mohair, and by Mrs. Hole Sr. in a gown of navy blue French voile polka-dotted in white and an embroidered hat of silk and straw delphinium blue.

The supper table was centred with the three-tier cake, flanked with silver vases of mauve and pink sweet peas and tall pink candles in silver holders. The bride and groom left later on the triangle tour to Jasper Park and Prince Rupert, and on their return will make their home on Harriet Road. The bride travelled in a three-piece costume of coral pink marcelaine, and an overcoat of grey-tweed with a white fur collar, and a hat of pink mohair. Among the presents received was a two-tier electric hotplate table stove, from the former music pupils of Miss Brown, a dinner service from the staff of John Meaton and Co., where the groom is employed, and a silver case-rol from the Sunday school staff of the Victoria City Temple, of which both the bride and groom are members.

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were Mrs. O'Hara, Mrs. H. A. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hole and Mrs. Chadwick of Vancouver; and Mrs. Chafe and the Misses Besse and Ella Chafe, Mrs. Swenson and Mrs. Grant from Seattle, and Mr. and Mrs. Hebben from Nanaimo.

A reception was held later at the home of the bride's parents, where the guests were received by Mrs. H. O. The table was decorated with sweet peas and white candles, and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. MacPherson left for Banff and the surrounding lakes, where they will spend their honeymoon, and on their return will reside in Victoria.

Members of the Kumtiks Club journeyed out to Cordova Bay yesterday evening for the second of their series of summer outings, when they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bradshaw and their summer home. Supper was served on the spacious veranda overlooking the bay, after which the merry party adjourned to the beach and assembled around a huge bonfire. The more energetic members of the party indulged in swimming and canoeing, and the remainder of the evening was spent in community singing around the bonfire until 9 o'clock, when after collective and individual thanks to the host and hostess for their generous hospitality, the party returned to the city.

The Misses Margaret Kermode and Violet Overend were joint hostesses of the 125th Government 125th Government Street, held in honor of Miss Winifred McDonald, whose marriage will take place shortly. The gifts were presented in a prettily decorated box, while the rooms were artistically arranged with pink and mauve sweet peas. The evening was spent with music and songs, and later a buffet supper was served. The invited guests were: Mrs. A. McDonald, Mrs. Frank Hunter, Mrs. A. Bell, Mrs. B. Dash, Mrs. S. Stafford, Mrs. A. Griffith, the Misses Winifred McDonald, Edith McDonald, Mona McDonald, Alma McKay, Phyllis Williams, Edith Roff, Winnie Bleasdale, Dorothy Thomas, Daisy Brownman, Leabell Restell, Nellie Bradshaw, Edith Corrin, Eva Hall, Anita Davies, Irene McDermas, Kay Freestone, Thelma Walker, Louise Zarelli and Francis Washington.

Of much interest to local friends of the principals, who will make their home in Victoria after the honeymoon, was the wedding solemnized at St. John's United Church, Vancouver, on Saturday evening, July 26, when Elizabeth Maud, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Foster, became the bride of Mr. and Mrs. J. MacPherson. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a graceful gown of ivory crepe back satin, cut on slender lines, with a square neck and puffed sleeves. Her veil of embroidered tulle was worn cap style and held in place with a bandeau of orange blossoms, and she carried a sheaf bouquet of Ophelia roses and white sweet peas. The bridesmaids wore ankle length Victorian frocks with matching mohair hats, carrying cotton bouquets of mixed flowers. Miss Mabel Foster, sister of the bride, chose shell-pinkorgette for her dress, while Miss Sheila MacPherson, sister of the groom,

SUPPLIES ALL BUT BRIDEGROOM FOR WEDDINGS

New York Society Girl Starts Novel "Wedding Embassy"

New York, July 31.—At a formal reception a few days ago, Miss Marie Couderc Brenning, daughter of Mrs. Dongan de Peyster and niece of Conde Nast, opened her "Wedding Embassy" first aid station for bewildered brides. With the above blue book antecedents, it offers to both parvenus and old settlers an easy escape from all the fuss and bother of a socially impeccable wedding.

TAKE CARE OF EVERYTHING

"The embassy" takes care of everything, from the first flourish on the bride's gown to the last lily of the valley in the bridegroom's boutonhole. The bride has only to rub the magic lamp of a dial phone, tell the gent at the other end that she wants a wedding—and it all comes through like Cinderella's coach and four.

Miss Brenning has been a sort of consulting engineer to Hyman for the last few years. Social arbiters have appeared to her as a higher court on matters of wedding ritual, dress, deportment, catering and all that, and she has established herself as the porta of this ancient diversion. Her

YOUR BABY and MINE

by MRS. MARY ELLEN

Mrs. Ellen will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. All questions and self-addressed envelopes forwarded to Mrs. Ellen will be given a personal reply.

SEASONABLE FRUITS AND VEGETABLES MAKE IDEAL SUMMER DIET

With summer fruits at the peak of their desirability the child should be given the advantage of them. Some fruits bear a bad reputation because children have over-indulged in them, rather than because the fruit itself is harmful. Excruciating stomach-aches and violent diarrhoea may be due to eating unwashed fruit, while the fruit itself is blameless. If one is in the slightest doubt as to the harmfulness of any fruit, it can still be used by cooking and steaming, thus ending all question as to whether baby or child will suffer from it.

Most seedy fruits are best excluded from the diet of the child under eight years. Watermelon and cantaloupe have little to offer except a delightful flavor and cellulose, so that as a part of any but the adult's menu they are valueless and sometimes distressing.

THE DESIRABLE FRUITS

Despite these exceptions, the list of desirable fruits is a long one. The older child may have ripe pears, ripe peaches, fresh ripe pineapple, ripe bananas (with this reiteration of ripe), one must be sure that the fruit isn't too ripe, which makes it as dangerous as if it were too green, white grapes, sweet apples, apricots, grapefruit, oranges, and tomatoes (which are right fully classed as a fruit).

The baby or child under two years may have his apples, peaches, apricots, and pears stewed and steamed, in addition to the tomatoes and oranges which are such an essential portion to his diet and must not be omitted from the menu of any child taking any bottled or canned foods. Oranges and tomatoes offer him in greatest abundance the vitamins which are destroyed when milk is pasteurized, boiled, evaporated, dried, or condensed. Without them he is all too apt to develop scurvy.

FRUITS AND ACIDITY

As all present day authorities warn of the danger of raw milk, it behooves the mother to safeguard her children by giving them pasteurized or boiled milk and make up the loss of vitamins by the daily addition of oranges or tomatoes until the child is on a general diet containing other raw fruits. For only a self-addressed, stamped envelope readers may have our leaflet on "Fruits and Vegetables Suitable in The Child's Diet."

All fruits, with the exception of pines, rhubarb, and cranberries, are despite their seeming acidity, really alkaline after digestion and thus contribute to the alkalinity of the body. We know many mothers who on being told that the child is suffering from an over-acid condition immediately stop giving fruits, thus intensifying the very condition they are so anxious to eradicate. Fruits and vegetables try the outstanding foods with an alkaline ash, while the seemingly bland foods, such as cereals, breads, eggs, meat and fat, are those with an acid ash. We must have both to balance the diet. In hot weather, however, it is well to see that the child has an abundance of fruits and vegetables so as to automatically cut down his consumption of heating and acid ash foods of which he might otherwise over-indulge.

Wed 14 Times, Man Tells How He Wins Wives

El Paso, Texas, July 31.—Take it from Bruce W. Steel, who has been divorced thirteen times and is now on the verge of getting his papers for the fourteenth time—when a man really sets out to make a woman love him, there's nothing the woman can do about it except give in.

"Women are all alike," says Steel. "I've had enough experience to know. Find their weakness and you have them."

Steel is a plumber. He was first married—"Yes, Mary was the first one," he says—in 1911, and Mary divorced him a year later. Then the fun, or the trouble began.

He was traveling about the country as a boxer with a show. "We'd hit a town and I'd get a girl crazy over me and we'd be married," he explains. "Then I'd move on and she'd get a divorce. I married some of the show girls."

After various marriages involving girls named Ruth, Goldie, Annie and Rose, Steel married one Fannie in 1914, and stayed married until 1923. Then Fannie divorced him, charging infidelity, and he married someone else. He was divorced again and a year later he remarried Fannie, who divorced him once more after only a few months of married life. A year or so ago he and Fannie were married a third time, and now Fannie is suing for divorce.

"Watch me bring her around," says Steel. "I'll bet she dismisses the suit. I can make any woman do what I want. If I want them to love me, they love me. If I want them to get a divorce, they get it."

A woman has long hair and short braids. Find her weakness and you have her. With some women it's music, with others, books, etc. Just find that weakness and play up to it and you've got 'em."

I married Nellie twice and Fannie three times as an experiment, to prove I could get them back. I'm out to beat King Solomon's record. Women who love me keep on loving me. The only reason they get divorced is jealousy."

Five of Steel's divorces have been granted in El Paso. Others have occurred in Dallas, Portland, Ore., Globe, Ariz., Seattle and Salt Lake City.

CROWD ATTENDS FETE AT HATLEY

Nearly 1,000 at Colwood W.I. Garden Party at Mrs. Dunsmuir's

Nearly one thousand visitors attended the very successful garden fete held yesterday at Hatley Park by the Colwood Women's Institute, through the kind permission of Mrs. Dunsmuir, an incessant stream of private cars and busses journeying out to discharge their human freight into the gardens, which are looking very beautiful in their riot of color.

Miss Kelly, president of the Colwood Institute, acted as general convener, assisted by Mrs. C. Goodall, the secretary. Miss Kelly was in charge of the gate receipts, assisted by the Misses M. Kelly, I. Brown, G. Robinson, I. Peatt, and Messrs A. Godfrey, R. Meadows and J. Wilson.

An attractive programme of music was rendered throughout the afternoon by the Victoria Boys' Band, the various items being received with enthusiasm. Tea was served by Mrs. H. Parker, assisted by Messdames R. E. Murray, T. W. Spencer, E. Wishart, W. Wishart, A. Godfrey, J. Hopwood, J. Martin, Miss O. Martin and Mr. W. Bowser. Mrs. F. Hughes and the Misses Jean and Adria Murray sold ice cream, and candy was dispensed by Mrs. C. Carnegie. A beautiful bedspread was presented by Mrs. E. Shield, tickets for which were sold by Mrs. Goodall, and Mrs. H. Parker gave a rug, also attractively worked, for which tickets were sold by Miss Mackenzie.

The conveners wish to tender their grateful thanks to all who assisted in any way in contributing to the success of the afternoon, the proceeds of which will be devoted to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Vancouver, the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, and for community betterment.

Star Field Will Seek Canadian Cycling Championships

Cream of British Columbia Riders To Compete Here

Two-day Championship Meet of Victoria Cycling Club Will Open To-morrow Afternoon at 2 o'clock at Royal Athletic Park; Elimination Heats To Be Held With Finals on Saturday Afternoon; Harold Davies Will Be Feature Rider at Meet; Twenty-five-mile Race at Beacon Hill on Saturday Evening.

With the cream of British Columbia riders entered the two-day championship meet being staged under the auspices of the Victoria Cycling Club will get under way at the Royal Athletic Park to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The feature of the meet is the fact that four Canadian championships will be at stake, namely, quarter-mile, half-mile, five-mile and twenty-five-mile. The latter championship will be competed for on Saturday night at 6 o'clock over a course at Beacon Hill Park.

It is the first time in the history of bicycle racing in Victoria that a recognized Dominion championship meet has ever been held here, and in view of this the officials are making every effort to make the event a most successful one.

George Robinson, secretary of the Victoria Cycling Club, stated this morning that all final arrangements have been completed for the meet. The track at the Royal Athletic Park has been put in the best possible condition, to eliminate every possible chance of spills.

ELIMINATIONS TO-MORROW
To-morrow afternoon will be devoted to elimination heats, with the finals of the championships scheduled on Saturday afternoon. In order that the track will not be crowded so as to give riders an even break, the officials have arranged several heats in each event. The first two men in each heat will qualify for the finals.

Besides the championship events to-morrow afternoon the club will stage two races, a quarter-mile sprint for boys under fourteen and a half-mile race for riders under sixteen. With these two events added it will give the competitors in the championship heats a "breather" between races.

The outstanding rider at the meet will be Harold Davies of Vancouver, recent winner of the Canadian board track championship at Montreal. Davies has just returned from his successful trip east and is in the pink of condition. It is his ambition to add the dirt track championship to his list of honors. Harold Davies was also the winner of the last Colonist race. In winning the race Davies set up a new record. Other outstanding Vancouver riders entered are: Jim Davies, older brother of Harold; Leo Marchiori, M. Robinson and F. Elliott.

All the Victoria stars have entered and are counting on bringing several, if not all, of the Dominion titles to Victoria.

OFFICIALS

The list of officials for the championships follow: Referee, George Bennett; clerk of course, William Leal; timekeepers, George Minor and Johnny Wenger; judges, W. E. Stansland, A. H. Walker and W. Macquie; starter, Chief of Police Fry; announcer, Joe North; lap scorer, George Robinson; and doctor, Dr. J. Grant.

A Correction

In yesterday evening's issue of The Times it was announced that the junior golf championship at the Colwood Golf Club would be held on Friday and Saturday. It should have stated the event would take place next Monday and Tuesday.

REGATTA AT BRENTWOOD IS SUCCESS

Many Victorians See Fine Programme of Field and Water Events Yesterday

Pacific Reel Cup Presented For Salmon Weighing Forty-nine Pounds, Eight Ounces

Many visitors from Victoria yesterday flocked out to the annual regatta held at Brentwood Bay when a long and varied programme of field and water sports held in the afternoon was brought to a close in the evening with a children's party and a bonfire dance. The regatta was one of the most successful in recent years and was held under ideal weather conditions.

One of the most interesting races of the day was the rowing competition from the Anchorage float to Skull Island and return. The best time of rowed his way to victory in the face of a stiff breeze and completed the distance in seven minutes, forty seconds. In the women's section, Mrs. Kier of Mission took the prize, rowing around the island in nine minutes and thirty-five seconds. Miss Kitty Graham was a close second.

LOTS OF FUN

The boys' costume races on land and water provided plenty of amusement for the large gallery of spectators. The water race was particularly humorous as they tore through the water garbed in all sorts of out-of-date clothing, evoked a lot of laughter from all who saw it. The mixed relay swimming race was another outstanding event of the day. Miss Thelma Richardson and Wallace Kier of Mission took the prize, with Miss Kitty Graham and Allan Bentley a close second. Although Miss Graham left the float last she forged steadily ahead and reached the winning point just as the victor climbed up.

A unique number on the regatta programme was the children's programme arranged for the evening in the Anchorage float. All the youngsters of the summer settlement gathered for this and each appeared in some number. A lot of talent was seen as the various children performed their songs and dances and recitations and they were encored to the echo.

FISHING HONORS

During the bonfire dance in the evening, when everything from sugar and flour to some blacking was given away, W. C. Wallace, president of the Brentwood Bay Recreation Club, under whose auspices the regatta was held, presented Miss Mary Laird and Tyson Dickinson with the Pacific Reel Cup, emblematic of the fishing honors of the Saanich Arm. The trophy is for the largest salmon caught in the arm during the season and Miss Laird and Mr. Dickinson took it for a fish weighing forty-nine pounds, eight ounces, which they caught on May 25.

Following is a complete result of the events held at the regatta:

Girls, 10 years and under—1, Sylvia Petch; 2, Brenda Woodward.
Boys, 10 years and under—1, Jack De Mingo; 2, Bob Walker.
Girls' peanut race—1, Peggy Bentley.

Royals Will Switch Line-up For Second Game With Montreal

British Columbia Soccer Champions Will Present Revamped Line-up Against C.N.E. This Evening in Dominion Final; Wood, Who Was Injured Tuesday, Will Be Out; Potter May Replace MacDougall at Outside Right; Sir Henry Thornton Will Perform Kick-off Honors.

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, July 31.—Half way along the championship trail toward the Connaught Cup and the Canadian soccer supremacy it signifies, New Westminster Royals will this evening attempt to repeat against Montreal Canadian Nationals eleven the defeat they handed them Tuesday. It was a 1 to 0 victory the hopes of the Far West registered over the eastern defenders of the laurels on that occasion in Old Carruthers Park here.

With a revamped line-up the British Columbia eleven have hopes of scoring a second more decisive win that would give them the championship. But the crafty Montrealers have had better opportunity now to find their land legs, and they are just as determined to turn the tables this evening and force the series into a third and deciding contest. Should a third game be necessary, it will be played Saturday night. The Montreal eleven likely will take the field just as they did Tuesday night when all of their skill, speed and skill could not win. But they are now armed with knowledge of their opponents' playing style. The one goal the Royals netted was on a penalty kick. The Pacific Coast aggregation, however, is expected to present a new fighting line. Wood, star left-back, who sustained a painful leg injury in the first cup tussle, will probably be absent while it also is reported Potter might start at the outside right position in place of MacDougall.

The game will get under way at 6.30 o'clock with Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways doing the kick-off honors. The railway chief will then take a grand stand seat to watch his Montreal "boys" perform against the Royals.

Toronto Signs J. Gallagher Of Montreal A.A.A.

Toronto, July 31.—Announcement has been made by the Toronto Maple Leaf Hockey Club of the National League of the signing of Johnny Gallagher, stalwart defence player of Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, holders of the Allan Cup, emblematic of the Canadian amateur hockey championship. Gallagher, who is twenty-one years old and weighs 157 pounds, accepted the offer of Coach Connely to-day after considerable rivalry between the Leafs and Montreal Maroons for his services. The latest recruit to the youthful Leaf line-up is a native of Kenora. On the ice he is wearing the colors of the Kenora Amateur Hockey Club.

Ruth and Company Setting Terrific Pace This Season

Five Players, Including Ruth, Have Already Passed the Bambino's Home Run Record Feat of 1919; Ruth Is Ahead of His Greatest Year; Gehrig's Home Run Yesterday Gave Yanks First of Two Victories Over Boston; Athletics Beat Washington; Brooklyn Wins Two to Increase Lead in National.

Only a decade has passed since that memorable 1919 season when Babe Ruth opened the era of the "lively" baseball by hitting twenty-nine home runs. Five players, still led by the eminent Babe, already have reached that mark this year with only two-thirds of the season past. Ruth is even ahead of his greatest year, 1927, when he raised the record to sixty homers. Lou Gehrig and Hack Wilson are only a game or two behind that pace.

Gehrig was the only leader in the slugging brigade to hit a homer yesterday and he picked a highly appropriate moment to connect. The homer came in the tenth inning of the Yankees' first game against Boston and turned a 2-3 stalemate into a rout. Lou's clout accounted for six runs and, with the aid of a homer by Harry Rice, the Yankees won 8 to 2. They won the second game by a 10 to 3 count.

The double victory gave the Yankees a bit of an edge on their leading rivals as the Philadelphia Athletics defeated Washington 7 to 4. The Yanks are now only two games behind the second place Senators, who in turn are seven games back of the A's.

At Cleveland, Earl Whitehill's relief hurling kept the Indians from overcoming an early Detroit lead and the Tigers won, 6 to 5.

BROWNS WIN TWO
Wally Stewart and George Blaholder each pitched a nice game for St. Louis against Chicago, and the Browns won the first 3 and 2 and the second, 6 to 1.

Brooklyn Robins showed the way to the National League in home run hitting as well as in the standings yesterday as they improved their position with a double victory over Philadelphia. Glenn Wright and Harvey Hendrick hit four baggers in the second game, which Brooklyn won 9 to 4. After taking the first, 9 to 5.

Fred Fitzsimmons also hit a home run and it clinched a rather doubtful dispute between New York Giants and Boston Braves, giving New York a 5 to 2 victory. Fitzsimmons also hurled the full game and gave only eight hits.

Pittsburgh scored a 6 to 5 victory over St. Louis when Ernie Bartell made a single in the eighth inning to complete the Pirates' rally which brought five runs in the seventh and eighth frames.

Only three games were scheduled in the National.

Philadelphia, July 31.—The Brooklyn Robins lightened their hold on first place yesterday by winning their eighth game in a double-header with the Phillies by scores of 9 to 5 and 9 to 4. Hendrick and Wright hit homers in the second game.

First game—R. H. E.
Brooklyn..... 9 14 2

Second game—R. H. E.
Brooklyn..... 9 14 2
Philadelphia..... 4 9 1
Batteries—Clark and Lopez; Collins and Davis.

New York, July 31.—Fred Fitzsimmons pitched the New York Giants to a 5 to 2 victory over the Boston Braves yesterday. Fitz held the Braves to eight hits and drove in three runs with a double and a home run.

Pittsburgh, July 31.—For the second straight day a single scoring two runs enabled Pittsburgh to come from behind and defeat St. Louis. Bartell hit in the eighth inning yesterday for the Pirates, 6 to 5.

St. Louis..... 2 8 0
Pittsburgh..... 6 9 1
Batteries—Haines and Wilson; Brane and Boal.

OPTIMISM GAINING WITH FORECASTS

New Relapses May Still Occur If Recovery Is Too
Rapid

By LAURENCE STERN

A temporary and meaningless change of market trend has often worked an amazing reversal of Wall Street sentiment. For this reason, few experienced observers will take at face value the bullish declarations now emanating from the majority of brokerage houses.

A different reception, however, must be accorded the carefully-weighted opinions of more responsible institutions which in the last year have not blown hot and cold at the dictation of the stock tape.

One of the bright spots in the present situation is that many such institutions find it possible to take a frankly optimistic stand. Their forecasts of early improvement are not necessarily infallible and conceivably may be joined by a severe relapse from a premature and too-fast speculative movement.

Such a development, however, would not change the essential outlook and probably would be accepted more widely than any previous break since last November as an opportunity to insure profitable participation in the next genuine speculative advance.

based on a cyclical upturn in business. What stands out in the existing uncertainty is that even conservative observers are almost unanimously agreed that such a movement will have begun at least by the start of 1931. The degree of business advance that can be expected is another matter and one on which there is no basis to form even a tentative opinion. A general activity well under that of 1929 might prove sufficient to support a satisfactory market.

The real fly in the ointment is that stock prices, as measured by past standards of real value, are not cheap. If a further relapse occurs prior to the beginning of a real bull market, this probably will be the cause. It is to be doubted that a bearish cause will be provided by the future business developments of the year, even if they must be taken largely on faith for the present.

As always, the baffling factor is that of public psychology. The margin public is not in the market to any important extent, but it never is after a severe deflation and its absence has never constituted proof that it would not eventually come in.

A more significant indication of the trend of public opinion is to be found in the enormous increase in the number of common stock investors since last autumn. It probably can be safely said that the American public remains stock-minded and that "new era" psychology has not entirely vanished.

It would be difficult to explain on any other basis the relatively high prices of premier stocks at the lowest levels of the recent decline. Similarly this factor conceivably might maintain what otherwise would seem a premature and over-rapid recovery.

Among the varied declarations of encouragement now available, one of the most interesting is that made by the Harriman National Bank and Trust Company, as follows:

"The past twelve months have seen the reversal of market opinion from the greatest optimism to the deepest pessimism. Market values evaporated in the October, 1929, panic, expanded in the first quarter of this year, and in the last month again declined very drastically to a point where many of the sound equity securities are available on an attractive return basis.

"The pertinent question to-day from the standpoint of a layman investor is, 'What will be the future trend of securities?' From a conservative standpoint, securities a year ago were selling at unreasonably high levels, but in the press of optimistic public opinion fundamental values were discarded. To-day speculative opinion has swung probably too far in the opposite direction and again fundamental values are receiving but scant attention. Underneath all this unrest of mind lies the unsettled conditions arising from apparent uncertainty of the business future of this country.

"We feel, however, that now is the time for the careful investor to give serious consideration to the purchase of sound basic industry securities, both stocks and bonds, based on the fact that in the last month uncertainty has given way to certainty through actual reports of earnings, reasonable business contraction, plentifulness of money and depletion of excess inventories to a point where we may expect within a few months normal consumption in fundamental business lines to equal and possibly exceed production. Sound business effort will in the next twelve months produce the success which artificial stimulants in the past six months failed to achieve.

"A review of previous business depressions would indicate that from a business standpoint an upturn is in prospect and possibly a rapid upturn in securities may be in order."

ECONOMIST URGES BUYER BE BONDED

This Plan Is Advanced to Eliminate Bankruptcy
Losses

Bonding of all buyers against their purchasing power is suggested by George V. Gilbert, a textile man from Philadelphia, for the elimination of huge annual losses caused by dishonest bankruptcies.

Mr. Gilbert's plan, the result of four years' study of bankruptcy conditions, calls for a so-called Fidelity Association to bond all buyers of merchandise, the bond to be based on present and past performance of the organizations they represent. A "Fidelity" emblem would be issued to all persons so bonded, to be conspicuously placed on their premises, as a guarantee that the firm is a satisfactory "credit account."

In the same way, persons wishing to buy in the market will need only to exhibit their "Fidelity" badges to convince the seller that he may safely extend credit.

Division of bonded merchants into two classes—A and B—is another part of Mr. Gilbert's plan. Those in Class A would be considered good risks and those in Class B only fair. The cost of a Class B bond would be somewhat higher than that of one in Class A, but as holders of the lower grade bonds improved their financial position, they could be advanced to Class A.

Another provision gives the proposed Fidelity Association the right to make periodical examinations of the books of any member of the association. Whenever a merchant is taken into the association he will be presented with credentials showing the amount of his bond, on which will be marked the dates and amounts of such purchases as he may make from time to time, in order to forestall overbuying.

Although he admits that it would cost in the neighborhood of $500,000,000 to make his plan effectively operative, Mr. Gilbert believes that the saving in losses to manufacturers, wholesalers and banks would soon more than offset the initial expense, as well as all later costs of administration.

At the present time, according to Mr. Gilbert, the system of extending credit is so ineffectual as to make it possible for merchants with thorough dishonest intentions to operate "bucket-shop" businesses and pocket money received from the sale of goods for which they have no intention of paying.

HUGE KING COBRA GOES TO BRONX ZOO FOR YEAR'S TRAINING

His Highness Stops Off on Way to Washington Home to Learn Etiquette

New York, July 31.—A king cobra established a dilatory domicile yesterday in the Bronx Zoo, where he will remain for about a year, studying the book of etiquette, prior to presenting his credentials at Washington.

His Highness, though excellent raw material of royalty, is not yet skilled in the social graces and arts of diplomacy nor has he been schooled in modern thought about disarmament. When Dr. Raymond W. Ditmars, curator, traveled to Jersey City to be presented to King Cobra, the King popped his head some seven feet out of his crate, and made a few hissing remarks and sharpened his molars in a fashion that convinced Dr. Ditmars he didn't mean maybe.

Dr. Ditmars was serving as an Ambassador Plenipotentiary and Extraordinary from Dr. W. M. Mann, who is directing the expenditure of $500,000 on new buildings for animals for the Zoo that will be part of the National Park in Washington. Dr. Mann had suggested the King possibly or as his Queens, recently brought from Singapore by William Rogers and two native keepers, might be a fitting addition to Washington snake society, which thus far lacks the glamour of royalty.

During his sojourn in the Bronx King Cobra may be viewed in a special throne, once prepared for him in the reptile house. He will stay there until his even more regal quarters in Washington have been made ready for him. The king cobra is worshipped by the natives of the Malay Peninsula. Nevertheless, during certain seasons of the year when the various kings are asleep these natives do not hesitate to walk through the tall grass, catching them with a peculiar lasso. The present Bronx king cobra, which Dr. Ditmars bravely transferred from Jersey City in his car, is 2½ feet long.

Subscriptions Pour In on A.T.T. Rights

New York, July 31.—Subscription to the 2,250,000 shares American Telephone and Telegraph stock, rights to subscribe to which expire August 1, are pouring into company's offices, and at close of business, July 29, the company had received approximately $90,000,000. Over 150,000 subscriptions have been received on which 75 per cent are full paid and 25 per cent in installments. This compares with $5 per cent fully paid and 17 per cent for the 1928 offering.

The company already has made advantageous investments in short term and government issues with funds on which it is getting comparatively generous yield.

Based on convertible bonds surrendered, there being but $13,000,000 outstanding of the original $219,000,000 issue, approximately $45,000,000 of American Telephone and Telegraph new stock will be taken by those converters.

Canada Crop Is Placed At 375,000,000 Bu.

Chicago, July 30.—John H. Pitt, from Macleod, Alta., in his Canadian crop estimate to-day for The Herald-Examiner says:
"After a motor trip of 1,000 miles through the three provinces and a semi-official and private report, both local and national, it would appear that Western Canada should produce an average yield, barring untoward developments. This would be around 375,000,000 bushels."

When the easiest way is the best way

THERE are no two ways about it! Certainly the easiest way to get the most for every dollar you spend is to buy products that you know about through the advertisements in your daily paper. You don't have to go out and look for buying opportunities. The advertisements bring them to you. And all you need do is consider the facts, compare values and decide on the soap or the sedan that best fits your judgment and your pocketbook.

Certainly the best way of making your money go farthest is to buy merchandise of proved value. Advertised merchandise. Merchandise that is bought and used by many people. Merchandise that must be superlatively good enough for its maker to keep calling it to the attention of people day after day and year after year.

This is the service—of convenience and profit—that the advertisements offer you every day. It will pay you to read them regularly and take advantage of everything they can do for you.

WHEN REVOLUTION SWEEP BOLIVIA

This picture, taken at the height of the short but successful revolution in Bolivia, shows a barrier erected by armed students who engaged loyal troops in the streets of La Paz, the capital. Five hundred persons were killed in the fierce fighting which marked the overthrow of the regime of Dr. Hernandez Siles. The revolt was started when Dr. Siles resigned as President but, to evade the constitutional law that no Bolivian President may succeed himself, had installed a subservient cabinet to rule in his place.

Dictator of Bolivia now is General Don Carlos Blanco Gallardo, above. This is the first picture of the rebel leader to reach this country since he headed the successful one-week revolution which overthrew the government of Dr. Hernandez Siles. He has decreed the election of a constitutional assembly to supplant the military power which previously has governed Bolivia.

B.C. POTATOES SCORE SUCCESS IN ARGENTINE

A delegation of Island growers calling on Premier Tolmie and Hon. William Atkinson, Minister of Agriculture, yesterday, gave figures respecting the shipment of seed potatoes sent from Comox Valley to the Argentine last year. The consignment consisted of 100 tons of Burbanks, half of which were in cold storage and the remainder in ventilated freight cars. Under actual test at Buenos Ayres the local product was judged superior to anything handled there before, and Argentine growers are now asking prices on additional shipment of seed stock. At present the heavy transportation charges to South America impair the profits of the transaction to some extent and it was partly with a view of escaping or solving this difficulty that the delegation appeared before the Premier yesterday. R. V. Hurford, H. P. Alberry and J. P. McD. Murray, all of Courtenay and H. S. McLeod, Dominion potato inspector of Saanichton, comprised the party.

PROVINCE WILL BE REPRESENTED AT TORONTO FAIR

Displays of Mining, Fisheries, Forests and Agriculture Will Be Shown

Fine displays of British Columbia's mining, fisheries, forest and agricultural life will be shown at the Toronto exhibition next month. The exhibits from this province have been highly commended by the different departments involved to make an even better showing this year than in the past.

Details of the exhibits will shortly be released but it is already known that British Columbia section will be set off by a large pictorial illustration of the chief industries of the province. Plans are also entertained for the exhibition of a British Columbia section at the Empire Trade Fair to be held at Buenos Ayres in April next year. Argentine interest in British Columbia agricultural products has developed to the point where a more extended display, than at first contemplated, will be made at the Empire Trade Fair.

PREDICTS REBIRTH OF ART IN AMERICA

Professor Sees Great "Renaissance" Coming on This Side of Atlantic

New York, July 31.—This continent is about to rival ancient Athens and Italy of the Renaissance in art and its public appreciation, in the opinion of Prof. Emerson H. Swift of the Department of Fine Arts of Columbia University. Prof. Swift made known the result of a survey of art activities, civic projects and educational institutions throughout the country. Facilities for aesthetic training and expression are now being provided by schools and colleges for the general public, Prof. Swift found. Increasing wealth gives leisure for travel and association with older cultures, from which an American Renaissance will spring, he believes. The trip to France of several million young Americans during the war gave an impetus to culture similar to that provided by the Crusades in former centuries.

As a result, says Prof. Swift, interest in the arts is "based on a secure and lasting foundation closely analogous to those which have supported the great artistic impulses of the past."

Artistic appreciation spread slowly in this country, the professor related, due to the rude pioneer background, the fever of search for wealth in the virgin continent, and the Puritan spirit, "which frowned on all artistic expression as a share of the devil."

With the turn of the century, however, a change became manifest. Increasing wealth and leisure not only encouraged the habit of collecting works of art for private delight as well as public satisfaction, but also gave rise to a growing stream of travel abroad.

"A powerful impulse of another sort was generated by the shipping to France of some millions of our citizens from all walks of life to take part in the war, and for the first time the man in the street became acutely, perhaps too acutely, aware of the existence of Europe. What the dough-boy saw of France, sordid and dispiriting enough at times, aroused his curiosity and evoked a keen desire to know about the cathedrals, pictures and statues which he often found so baffling and at the same time moving."

These forces, coupled with the growing movement for popular artistic education in schools and colleges, which began as soon as a desire for it became apparent, will bring about the American Renaissance, Prof. Swift finds it foreshadowed in "the clean flanks and soaring towers of Manhattan," and in the best of modern painting and drama.

John Ericsson ran gallily down to open the gate for the rest of his family, as their carriage moved down the driveway. They were going away for the day. He closed the gate after them, and waved until they were out of sight. He was alone—and that was exactly what he wanted. Swiftly he ran back to the house, and straight to his "workshop," where he kept his drawing board, and all sorts of tools, pieces of wood, and bits of iron.

Now he had a whole day to himself, with no chores to be done, no brothers and sister to tease him. To-day he could finish the drawing he was making of a machine he had seen on a visit to a neighboring mine, and he could work on a little model of a saw mill that he had been studying all summer.

All day he worked, stopping only to fix lunch. When the family came home and told him what a fine day they had had, he wasn't one bit sorry he had stayed at home.

John Ericsson, born in Sweden, July 31, 1803, was a great inventor. One of his inventions was the screw propeller, which changed the way in which ships were run.

Tommy Hitchcock Leads His Team To Easy Victory

Locust Valley, N.Y., July 31.—The "whites" led by Captain Tommy Hitchcock Jr., again defeated the "reds" in the fourth of a series of matches yesterday to select a team to defend the Chester cup in the international matches with the British in September. The score was 16 to 11.

Eric Bedley, sensational Californian, playing at No. 1, scored seven of the "whites" sixteen goals. The "reds" bulwarked with a six-goal handicap, remained on even terms until the match entered the fifth period. At the time Hitchcock, whose play had been erratic, settled down. He and Bedley, aided by an occasional goal by J. F. Mills, No. 3 on the "whites" were beyond the reach of their rivals.

E. J. Boeseke Jr., the other Californian striving for a place as an international player and riding at No. 2 for the Reds, never could get started. He scored a goal, but missed completely many shots in the general play.

SEEKS REPEAL OF PANAMA ACT TO AD RAIL LINES

Removal of Railroad Shackles in U.S. Wanted By Shareholders, Says J. D. Shattford

Repeal of the Panama Canal Act to give the railroads of the United States greater scope is the goal of the Railway Owners' Association of America, according to its chairman, J. D. Shattford of Washington, D.C., who is a guest at the Empress Hotel.

The association represents more than one-third of the total railway stock held in the United States.

"We are strongly in favor of the repeal of the Panama Canal Act, which so effectively prevents the railroads of the United States from operating ships in the intercoastal trade and also bars them from carrying goods or passengers on the rivers and lakes," said Mr. Shattford to-day, describing the situation as ridiculous.

"It will take time, but what we are advocating will ultimately be brought about," he confidently asserted.

The Railway Owners' Association is also working for rail consolidation in the United States, its aim being to create through railway systems from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast and to supersede the present system which divides the railroads at the Mississippi.

There passed away on July 31, Olivia Blanche Seabrook, wife of Joseph Ivan Seabrook, at the age of forty-seven years. The late Mrs. Seabrook was born in London, Eng., and had resided in this city since 1912. She is survived by her husband, son, and two daughters, Annette and Josephine. The funeral will take place from the B.C. Funeral Chapel on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, interment being made in Rose Bay Cemetery.

OBITUARY

The death occurred last evening at the Royal Jubilee Hospital of Colin McPadden, 1775 Ross Street, aged sixty-four years, a native of Scotland. He is survived by his widow and one son at home and one daughter in Toronto. ## ROTARIANS HEAR OBJECTIVES OF TOWN PLANNING

Major W. G. Swan Sketches Aims of Recent "Community Foresight" Schemes

Suggests Commission For City; Does Not See Victoria as Industrial Centre

Features of town planning, its advantages and difficulties, were sketched by Major W. G. Swan, consulting engineer of Vancouver, before the Rotary Club at its luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

During his talk the speaker advocated the formation of a town planning commission to take charge of complaints now being referred to the City Council regarding the zoning by-law.

He also stated that, to his mind, Victoria was not meant to be an industrial centre, and voiced the opinion that it should be developed as a residential city.

"What we have learned on town planning has chiefly been absorbed from countries outside Canada," Major Swan said. "Town planning first came to the notice of British Columbia in 1924 and the following year a special act was passed by the provincial legislature giving municipalities the right to design their towns," he said, adding that this had developed steadily from a slow beginning.

Major Swan characterized the study as community foresight.

In South Vancouver, was found an example of the lack of town planning, he noted. Several city lots did not face roads but merely had frontage on lanes.

He outlined the necessity of considering one's neighbors' desires in drawing up district plans.

The speaker dealt with zoning, saying that its object was to place various institutions in their proper locations.

ADVOCATES COMMISSION

In Victoria, he thought, a town planning commission would be of great value, since it would relieve the City Council of many knotty questions.

The speaker also mentioned a clause in the city charter which gave the council the right to control the erection of these structures, when people had planned their construction before zoning by-laws were passed.

The division of buildings from one-family residences to ten-story structures into separate districts was explained with comments on the faults and benefits in each.

In New York, which he called a monstrosity in town-planning, high buildings were cutting out sunlight from many stores and were resulting in physical hardships to employees.

VICTORIA RESIDENTIAL CITY

"It seems to me that Victoria was not made for an industrial centre," the speaker said. "But is undoubtedly one of the most beautiful cities for residences."

Transportation, both by bus and other means, was touched upon by the speaker.

He criticized the inauguration of routes not vitally necessary, saying that the city had been built on the basis of one of the most beautiful cities for residences.

Street-widening and planning of the main arterial roads, were also important issues, he said, adding that few cities in the world had done so much in increasing road widths and giving compensation to those who were forced to give up their property.

Elimination of bad grade crossings and improvement of stations were also closely related to town planning, Major Swan remarked, saying that harbor facilities and approaches were also features requiring considerable study.

Vice-president Percy Watson thanked the speaker for his address.

SAANICH ADDS TO WATERWORKS

Twelve-inch Main on Wilkinson Road Now in Service

The Saanich waterworks this week placed in service one and a half miles of new twelve-inch water main on Wilkinson Road, which replaces a two-inch pipe in service for many years.

The new main runs from the existing twelve-inch main at the Mental Home to the West Saanich Road and connects with the old twelve-inch main on Lake Road, which was used to bring Elk Lake water to Victoria.

The cost of the work was about $15,000, and supplies unlimited water service to a number of greenhouses and horticultural industries. Lack of water has been the source of many complaints to the council from Wilkinson Road residents.

By junction of the twelve-inch mains north of Royal Oak the Saanich Council has made preparation for an extensive northward expansion of the waterworks system as soon as the new works from the West Saanich district.

In a letter to Mayor Ansonm. Mr. Nuttall enclosed a copy of a poem, "British Columbia," written by him, and printed in The Evening Post of Victoria on August 31, 1922. He still has a sentimental attachment for Victoria.

Generous Awards Offered Competitors on September 16 and 17

The prize list for the sixty-second annual exhibition of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Society, to be held at the Saanichton Hall on September 16 and 17, is now being distributed and provides for many additional classifications and numerous additions to the prize list.

Provision is made for generous awards in the livestock classes, especially in the Jersey and Holstein cattle sections. The poultry classes are expanded, especially in the utility sections.

GRAIN FOR WORLD'S FAIR

Special attention is given grains, roots and vegetables, and a page of the prize list directs attention to the fact that next year the farmers of Saanich will grow grains in competition for inclusion in a Saanich display to be held at the World's Grain Exhibition in Regina.

Prizes offered for tree fruits number 120, and include many trophies and valuable awards. There are seventy-five prizes in the flower section and many special awards supplement the usual cash prizes in the domestic science and ladies' work sections.

CHILDREN COMPETE

School children will compete for thirty-four prizes for school work. There is an extensive photography department and many awards are offered for the best work.

The sports programme will include eighteen events in addition to the David Spencer Limited Challenge Cup for aggregate points won by schools with over 100 pupils and the Saanich Board of Trade cup for smaller schools.

WERE THESE BABIES GIVEN TO WRONG MOTHERS?

Are these babies with their right mothers? That's the question that has caused Chicago hospital authorities, scientists and parents so much worry since the mix-up of the infants shortly after their birth. Mrs. William Watkins, right, and Mrs. Charles Bamberger, left, each had a baby born to them at the same hospital within a few hours' time. Everyone was happy until Mr. Watkins decided to take a hand in bathing his new son and noticed a label on the child's back with the name "Bamberger" on it. A similar label bearing the name "Watkins" was found in the Bamberger home. But after having the babies for ten days neither mother wanted to give them up. And now scientists are taking all kinds of tests in an effort to determine which baby is which. The mothers are shown here with the babies that were given to them as their own.

GIANT CAMERA TO SHOOT ECLIPSE ON PACIFIC ISLE

Naval Observatory Expedition Sailing This Week For Mid-ocean

A queer, lonely little island in the mid-Pacific will be a centre of world interest for ninety-three days next October. Niuafoou, a palm-covered circular ring of land rising abruptly out of the ocean and surrounded by a large lake whose water bubbles as if it were boiling, happens to be one of the two spots crossed by the path of a total eclipse of the sun the morning of October 21. The United States Naval Observatory is sending an expedition there. The party, composed of distinguished astronomers, left San Francisco, Cal., July 31 with sixty tons of equipment to be ready for that fleeting instant when, if the sky happens to be clear, the black disc of the moon can be seen swallowing and then disgorging the sun.

300-MILE TRANSFER
This is one of the most difficult expeditions ever attempted by sea. The party, in command of Commander C. H. J. Koppeler, expects to reach Pago Pago, American Samoa, August 13. Then the equipment will be transferred to the mine sweeper Tanager for landing on Niuafoou, 300 miles away.

A report just received from a navy party at Pago Pago which made a preliminary visit to the island reveals that there is only one possible place of anchorage for the Tanager, and that is in deep water. The cliffs of the island rise rather abruptly on all sides, but a landing place has been found for small boats. It will require extreme skill to transport and land the heavy equipment, augmented by 8,000 feet of lumber brought from Pago Pago, in the small boats. The work will be possible, it is believed, only on absolutely calm days. Even a moderate breeze prevailing the ocean will make it very risky, if not impossible.

Approximately eight weeks' work will be necessary on the island. The biggest job will be building the sixty-five foot camera through which the weird corona of the eclipse will be photographed. This will be an exact job of astronomical engineering. The camera must be directed with absolute accuracy to the spot in the heavens where the sun the moon will meet. None of the precious ninety-three seconds can be wasted in adjustments. The astronomical marksmen must fire rapidly and leave nothing to chance.

A CHUD AND ALL'S OFF
If the sky happens to be cloudy that morning most of the work will be wasted. The astronomers are taking a big chance on the weather, because they have no basis for prediction. Meteorological observations never have been taken on Niuafoou, with its two white inhabitants and 1,101 Polynesian natives, and it is a funny little island where funny things may happen even to the weather. Otherwise the astronomers would be a little more confident than usual because the eclipse will take place in the morning and the morning sky of the Pacific islands usually is clear at that time of year.

Niuafoou is in the Tonga Archipelago, one of the mandate islands of New Zealand. The only other spot of land in the path of the eclipse is the tiny island of Nurakitta in the Ellice group. Conditions there were reported by navy observers as so much worse that there was no room for choice.

Scientific work will not be confined to astronomy. Lieut. H. C. Kellers, medical member of the party, has a commission from the Smithsonian Institution to collect plants and animals. The isolated island is so queer in other ways that it is likely to have a queer flora and fauna. Dr. Kellers will look out especially for one bird there, the melanotus, which lays eggs enormously out of proportion to the size of its body. These eggs are left on the sand and hatch without any incubation.

"Nothing."

WILLIAM BAKEWELL HAS LEADING ROLE IN BIG WAR FILM

"Remarque wrote that the finest things coming out of the war was comradeship born in battle. I wonder what he would have said had he seen the strange comradeships made while his book 'All Quiet on the Western Front' was being made into a picture."

So muses William Bakewell, who at twenty-two is one of Hollywood's most popular and most promising players and who has the role of "Albert," the little comrade, in Universal's picture-ization of Erich Maria Remarque's sensational book of the war which opened a nine days' engagement at the Capitol Theatre to-day.

"The comradeship that Remarque wrote of was that of German for German, Frenchman for Frenchman, Britisher for Britisher. In the making of 'All Quiet' as a picture all bounds of nationalism were swept away. In the ranks of the soldiers used in the picture were German, French, British, Russian, Canadian, American and Italian," says Bakewell.

GARY COOPER PLAYS NEW WESTERN ROLE AT THE DOMINION

Gary Cooper has become a star in his own right since making "The Virginian." Now he is back in the companion "Texan," which opened its three-day run at the Dominion Theatre to-day. Cooper's rangy form and natural Western tang give a realism and stirring naturalness to these gripping outdoor talking specials which have a strong appeal.

"The Texan" is fast-moving, absorbing and bristling with melodramatic action. It opens at a gallop, on the gun-baked plains of Texas, with Cooper dodging the law. It moves swiftly into tense situations as, in self-defence, he shoots a crooked gambler and once more flees an angry justice. It breathes suspense and thrills, as Cooper stumbles into the most glamorous adventure of his dare-devil career; poses as the son of a wealthy South American widow; falls in love with her beautiful niece; finds he is too whole-hearted to carry out his sinister plans against the old lady, and fights to preserve his "good" reputation.

MARY NOLAN HAS STELLAR ROLE IN FILM "UNDERTOW"

The outstanding achievement of "Undertow," the Universal all-talking picture, which opened at the Columbia Theatre to-day, is the dramatic portrayal of an absorbing characterisation by the star, Mary Nolan.

Hitherto, Miss Nolan in other films has given us just hints of her real ability. In "Undertow" she takes her place beside not only the great dramatic stars of the screen, but beside the greatest stars of theatrical history. Her performance as Sally, the pleasure-loving girl who married a light-tender, is superb.

In directing the picture, Harry Pollard, who became justly famous with the screen classic, "Show Boat."

Where To Go To-night

An Advertised
THE SCREEN

Capitol—"All Quiet on the Western Front," starring Lewis Ayres.
Coliseum—Vilma Banky in "A Lady of Love."
Columbia—"Undertow," featuring Mary Nolan.
Dominion—Gary Cooper in "The Texan."
Playhouse—"Journey's End," with Clive Collins.
Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

has accomplished something which can be done only by a master and then only with a singularly powerful story. He has built real drama between three people only—sometimes between only two. Nothing further can be said for either direction or story than that in situations such as these, the interest is not only sustained, but actually heightened.

"LADY TO LOVE" IS MISS BANKY'S STARRING FILM

"A Lady to Love," starring Vilma Banky, which is now showing at the Coliseum Theatre, was made by the last of the "Big Ten" of film directors to embrace the new medium of talking pictures.

Victor Seastrom delayed in starting his first vocalised production, not because he does not like dialogue films but for the reason that during all of 1928 he took a year's vacation at his old home in Sweden; his first leisure period since making of "He Who Gets Blasted," "The Scarlet Letter" and "The Divine Woman."

In "A Lady to Love" Seastrom is said to offer a new treatment of the old problem of an older man with a young wife. Miss Banky has the role of Lena, a waitress who accepts by mail the proposal of an Italian vineyardist of California.

SPIRIT OF PLAY IS MAINTAINED IN "JOURNEY'S END"

"Journey's End" will be the attraction at the Playhouse Theatre until the end of this week. This is the play that two continents have been packing theatres to see for over a year. This is the play so perfect, so inspiring, so to be cherished that columns and columns have been written expressing a fear of what would happen to it in its transition from the speaking stage to the talking celluloid.

Not unmindful of all the terrors on the part of the legion of admirers of "Journey's End," Tiffany-Celma borough, its producers, made an inviolable law at the very start—it must preserve R. C. Sherriff's play in letter, spirit and gesture. And, if advance criticism can be relied upon, it has.

NEW PHYSICAL TRAINER NAMED

A. C. Hinton to Replace Capt. Ian St. Clair in City Schools

Three New Teachers Appointed; Two Are Given Leave of Absence

Appointment of A. C. Hinton, of Vancouver, as supervisor of physical training for Victoria public schools, was made by the school board at a special meeting yesterday afternoon. Mr. Hinton, who comes to Victoria well-recommended and with high qualifications, will succeed to the position of Capt. Ian St. Clair, who recently retired after many years of service with the city.

Three teaching vacancies were also filled by the board, the following gaining appointments: James T. Bruce, Muriel Bowes and Mona Bradford. All positions vacant in the city school staffs are now filled.

Leave of absence to teachers who wished to attend university was granted to Miss J. C. Roberts of South Park School and Miss Eleanor B. MacLeod of Beacon Hill School. In this connection a resolution was tabled by Trustee Kenneth Ferguson, proposing that all teachers under leave for educational purposes should guarantee they would return to their positions in Victoria. The board, it was felt, should be protected in the matter and should not be forced to hold a position open indefinitely. The motion was laid over for the time being.

ALL QUIET ON THE WESTERN FRONT

WHITNEY LETTER

(By BRUNSON, Brown & Co. Limited)

New York, July 31.—Whitney of Wall Street Financial Bureau says today: EXPECT RALLY TO-DAY

"Yesterday's decline admittedly is not a normal development for a market which is going higher off the current advance, and what I believe it shows is that we are simply in a phase of the market where insufficient constructive ammunition prevents any great advance taking place at this time.

"In other words, think the market has simply been confronted with the necessity of absorbing tail-end news of our fifteen-month business depression as a prior step to the discounting of the business turn. We are certainly getting plenty of evidence that business is depressed, and as yet so little surface evidence of the turn which I believe is not a full month off, that the market can hardly engage in the anomalous procedure of discounting the latter feature while the immediate future is making itself so evident on every side.

"The decline in September wheat yesterday brought the price into the 85 to 87 cent range, which it was predicted here would make the bottom for that commodity, and without discounting to forecast that it concerns the stock market, nevertheless, think that this clears up the situation in that commodity, and removes just that much of the tail-end depression news from the total we are going to have to go through.

"What is perhaps of more importance marketwise is that yesterday's decline brings us down fairly close to the top of the range in which stocks were accumulated in the one-month period between mid-June and mid-July, and, as previously stated, think this range is going to provide a strong support point to the extent that the month of its existence will be duplicated now that the market has returned close to it. This element, I believe, will succeed in bringing forth a rally to-day, but for the moment do not think it will have to allow a little more time, if for no other than the above stated reasons.

"In the meantime, do not anticipate any material lower prices, nor that any such session as yesterday's will run much beyond itself, as we are in a market where the roughly liquidated broker's loans are in a correspondingly liquidated public position, and also roughly easy money markets are going to act as supporting factors to prevent the effect of any one bad day from generating the momentum it did when these and other factors were in the reverse position.

"The issues suggested here as desirable purchases are maintaining relatively stable prices and to that extent there is no reason why they should not be held through intermediate fluctuations for higher prices later on."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

Can Wife Cure Her Husband of a Love of Reading?
What Are a Crippled Girl's Chances of Marriage?
Foolish Children Who Plan to Marry to Escape School

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married for twenty-two years to a husband, who is in most ways pleasant and obliging, but who has one fault that irritates me very much. He persists in sitting in the corner with either a book or magazine or a paper and when he becomes absorbed in what he is reading it is impossible to move him so conversation or even to get him to answer questions of the most commonplace sort. Please tell me what I shall do in order to cure him of this boring habit. MRS. A. J.

ANSWER—Why, Mrs. A. J., if I had a husband whose only fault was a love of reading, I should be down on my knees thanking God for having given me such a treasure instead of complaining of my lot. Why, woman, you don't know when you are well off!

Suppose, instead of sitting in the corner of an evening, that he was off running the streets? Suppose, instead of being absorbed in a book, that he had ears and eyes only for some flapper about half your age and who had half your weight? Then you would have cause to worry.

Believe me, sister, as long as a man stays put by his own fireside of an evening and takes his romance vicariously in novels, his wife is a lucky woman.

If you are so keen on talking and can't get any other audience and if there are any particular questions you wish to ask him, why don't you make a bargain with him?

Tell him that if he will give you a half hour's talkfest just after dinner every night you won't interrupt his reading. That will appeal to his sense of justice. Also, he will see a means of buying peace, and I will bet you my new hat that he will agree to the arrangement.

But if he doesn't, why not find some one else to talk to? You have neighbors and friends and there is always the ever-useful telephone over which you can converse.

Perhaps you will say that these do not take the place of a husband and you feel that it is his duty to entertain you. So it is, to a certain extent, but you must consider his rights in the matter, too, and that he is as much entitled to spend his evening reading as you are to spend yours talking.

It always strikes me as curious that women never seem to think that a man has any rights and privileges in the home that he spends his life toiling to support. It is only the exceptional man who ever has a room of his own that he can furnish as he likes and in which he can do as he pleases. It is only the exceptional man who even has a closet or chiffonier of his own. Generally speaking, anything is good enough for hubby and any old hook will hold his clothes.

Nor does the wife realize that the evenings are her husband's only time of relaxation and that during the few hours when he is free of the grind of his daily labor he must get rest and refreshment of body and soul if he is to go on with his job.

If she did she wouldn't save up all the odd jobs for him to do at night. She wouldn't begrudge him an evening off now and then and she wouldn't take the book away from him that he wanted to read.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I am a girl, twenty-one years old. My mother died when I was thirteen and I have not been happy since because I am crippled. My sisters call me an old maid and say no man will marry me because I am lame, although I am prettier than they are. When any man tries to talk to me they say that he is just making a fool of me. Do you think a man could ever fall in love with a crippled girl? C. G.

ANSWER—Why not? If a man is big and fine and noble, he will be looking at your mind and heart, which are straight and beautiful, and not at your poor, deformed foot. As a matter of fact, I know two or three lame women who are married to splendid husbands.

I think your sisters must be as cruel as the wicked sisters in the fairy tale and that you are far luckier than they because they are lame in their souls, while you are lame only in body.

But facts are facts, C. G., and it seems to me that the brave thing to do and the wise thing to do is to look them squarely in the face instead of shutting our eyes to them.

It is foolish to deny that men require far more physical perfection from women than men from men and that they are far more repulsed by any bodily defect in a woman than a man is.

Because a man is baldheaded or fat does not keep a girl from liking his attention, falling in love with him, but any girl who was fat and baldheaded would never get an invitation from a man to go anywhere. Still less would she ever get a proposal of marriage.

All of us know women who have married men who are hunchbacked or blind and deaf and dumb or who have been terribly maimed because the women could see the splendid heart and soul and brain that was housed in the poor, battered body. But you seldom hear of a man marrying a woman who is greatly afflicted.

So, while you are not predestined to be an old maid because of your lameness, it is undoubtedly true that you will have fewer chances to marry than if you had two good dancing feet.

Therefore, I would advise you to think as little as possible about love and matrimony and to fit yourself to make a good independent living for yourself. If you do that you will have something to interest you, money to be comfortable and independent on and you can live a happy life whether you marry or not.

Then, if Mr. Right comes along, well and good, and if he doesn't you will not have lost out.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—We are two very troubled schoolgirls, aged fifteen and sixteen. We are very much in love with two boys who are seventeen and nineteen, and we are thinking of getting married because we are all so tired of going to school. What do you advise us to do? MAUD AND MARY.

ANSWER—I advise you not to try the experiment of jumping out of the frying pan into the fire, because if you do you will surely get badly burned.

You are tired of going to school. Believe me, my children, you will get a lot more tired of matrimony if you undertake it at your tender age. School lasts only a few years, but marriage is forever, unless you go through the horror of divorce. Your school hours are short hours, but marriage is a twenty-four-hour job, with no holidays and off days for a wife and mother.

You think that marriage is a picnic. Look at your own mothers. Isn't mother up before anybody else in the morning and isn't she the last to go to bed at night? Isn't she the one who does the hard chores? Isn't she the one who stays at home when everybody else goes on excursions? Isn't she the one who has the shabbiest clothes and bears the heaviest burden?

Don't be in a hurry to understudy mother. Don't make the mistake of thinking that matrimony is a soft snap and don't be foolish enough to ruin your life in its beginning by marrying another silly kid. The whole four of you ought to be spanked and sent to bed without your suppers for even talking about getting married.

FINDS EUROPEANS BETTER WORKMEN

With Same Tools, They Produce More Than on This Continent

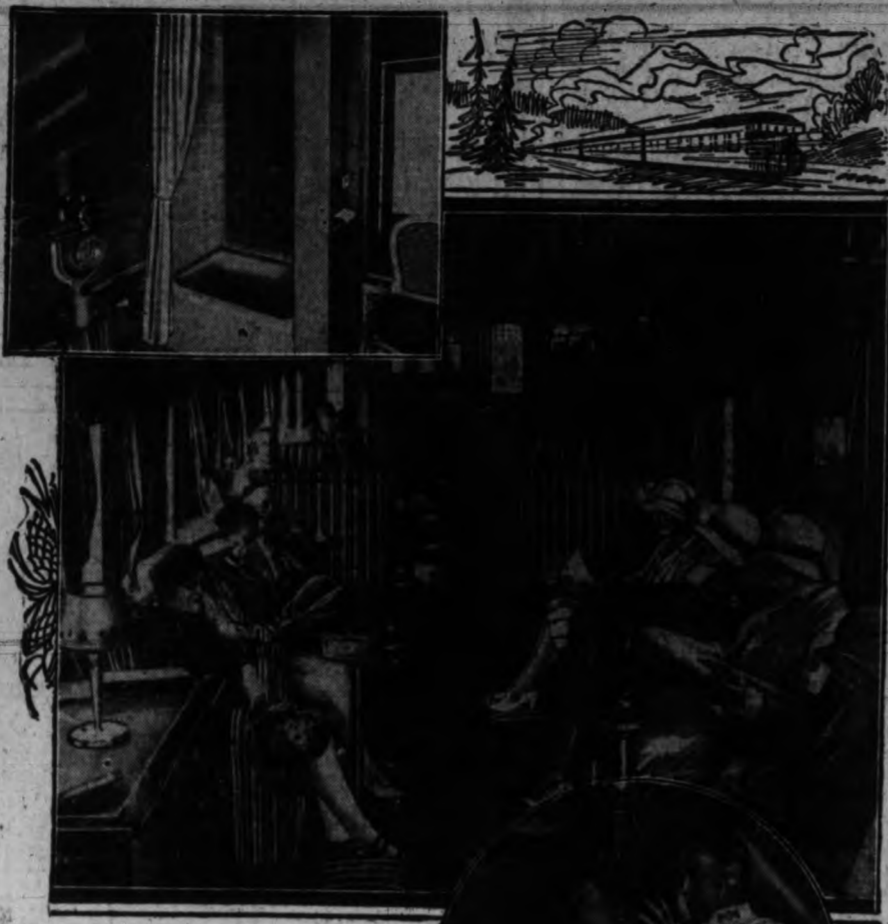

Inquiry Shows It's System, Not Men, That Makes United States Rich

Geneva, July 31.—The inquiry of the International Labor Office, which was commissioned by the Twentieth Century Fund of the United States to make a study of living costs in various cities of Europe in order that the Ford Motor Company could determine the wage scale in its various Continental factories, is uncovering some interesting data.

The object of the inquiry is to find out how much a worker in a Ford factory in Ireland, England, Germany, Belgium, Roumania or other countries would have to be paid in order to provide him with a living standard equal to that enjoyed by Ford workers in Detroit.

The report of Sir Percival Perry, chairman of the Ford Motor Company in England, shows that it is not the American worker that made the Ford experiment a success, it is the system itself. "This company and its associated companies," says Sir Percival, "are employing Englishmen, Irishmen, Dutchmen, Frenchmen, Belgians, Danes, Germans, Italians, Spaniards, Swedes, Poles and Turks, all working in their respective countries, doing the same job with the same factory tools and under

BATH AND GYMNASIUM ON NATIONAL TRANSCONTINENTAL TRAINS

A bath room where the traveller may enjoy the luxuries of bath or shower; a gymnasium where he may work out "the kinks" which may have been caused by a day's travel; a barber shop with all the latest appliances and appointments of the modern beauty parlor, and valet service to ensure that the traveller may leave the train fit and ready for anything, these are part of the services provided by the innovation of new bath-room and barber shop lounge cars on The Confederation of the Canadian National Railways.

In keeping with its policy of providing "firsts" for the use of its patrons, the Canadian National Railways have introduced many new features in the new lounge cars, of which twelve are being placed in service on this train for the comfort of trans-continental tourists.

The miniature gymnasium, with its Swedish massage and other electrical exercises, is the first of its kind placed on regular service by any railway. In addition this car has a buffet from which iced drinks and sodas may be served; a combination radio and gramophone set with loud-speaker and headphones; the barber shop with appliances for both men and women patrons, and the entire lounge section fitted with Vista-Glass windows to provide the passengers with the beneficial view rays while they are travelling. The Confederation operates between Toronto and Vancouver, and the cars are being placed in service as quickly as they are received. Master car equal conditions. Comparative statistics have enabled us to establish the fact that the American workman is no miracle monger; neither is the British, Irish or Continental artisan an inferior creature. Given like conditions and treatment, European workers actually beat their American cousins, as proved by the standard of minute costs.

The International Labor Office's experts are compiling data on living costs in seventeen large European cities and will soon have the initial stage of the inquiry completed.

Two German passenger liners have been equipped with bowling alleys in which machinery automatically resets the pins, returns the balls, and indicates the scores.

ONCE RICH LAWYER LOSES $2,000,000 IN WALL ST. CRASH

Now He Faces Magistrate on Charge of Cashing Bad Cheque

New York, July 31.—J. Walter Rosenberg, wealthy Philadelphia attorney known as a spender and a man of unquestioned credit during the many years he has been a frequent guest at the Hotel Plaza when in New York, faced Magistrate Brodsky in West Side Court on a charge of cashing a worthless cheque for $400 at that hotel.

Rosenberg, who told detectives he had lost $2,000,000 in the late Wall Street crash, is understood to have been a member of a syndicate that purchased the Hotel Ritz-Carlton in Philadelphia in 1927 for $4,500,000. At that time Rosenberg, Roy M. Livingston and Harry M. Goshen took title to the hotel which had been erected by the late P. A. B. Widener. Some years before Rosenberg, whose real holdings were extensive, purchased for $93,000 the old three-story dwelling at No. 105 West 42d Street, Manhattan, which was thereupon leased for twenty-one years to Horn & Hardart as the site for an automat lunch.

The present difficulties of the once prosperous attorney and realtor, with offices at No. 1324 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, followed several warnings by Hotel Plaza officials. The specific complaint, made by Michael McGreal, cashier, was based on the $400 cheque cashed July 2. It was drawn on a Philadelphia bank and was promptly returned because of insufficient funds. McGreal told the court that the cheque was one of five totaling $1,900, which the hotel had honored within a period of five days, all of which were returned.

Previously McGreal said, the hotel was accustomed to cashing for him many cheques for large sums, and Rosenberg's credit had been excellent. Magistrate Brodsky held Rosenberg in $3,000 bail for hearing Thursday. In the meantime, it was indicated at the Hotel Plaza yesterday that Rosenberg would raise the sum of the cheques and that the hotel management may not prosecute.

Rosenberg is forty-seven years old and is understood to be divorced and to have two sons, one of whom was with him at the Plaza when his cheque difficulties arose. Following this, the Philadelphia lawyer moved to the Hotel Pennsylvania, where he was taken into custody Saturday by Detective Roger Meehan of the West 47th Street Police Station.

STRAIGHT EIGHT FEATURES PLEASE

Silent Operation and Gear Shift in New Buick Create Impression

One of the new series of straight eight motor cars manufactured by Buick, which will be on display at the showrooms of H. A. Davies Limited on Friday, was given a try out yesterday afternoon by members of advertising departments of the local newspapers. W. A. Patterson, advertising manager of The Daily Times; A. T. Stewart, advertising manager of The Daily Colonist; Jack Speck and Gordon MacKintosh and Bill Davis, manager of H. A. Davies Limited, drove the new eight during the initial run over the Island Highway to the summit of the Malahat and return, and all were enthused by the remarkable performance of the new car.

The silent synchro-mesh transmission which makes its first appearance on these low-priced cars, enables the driver to shift gears noiselessly back and forth at any speed which may be required.

The silent operation of the motor at all speeds and during the shifting of gears is the most amazing feature of the new car. The responsiveness of the steering wheel and quick get-away with added riding comfort on rough roads should prove popular features.

AYRES BULLISH FORECASTS AUGUST BETTER THAN JULY, SEPTEMBER STILL BETTER

Business will be better in August than in July and better in September than in August, in the opinion of Leonard F. Ayres, noted economist and chief market forecaster, who is vice-president of the Cleveland Trust Company, expressed in the current business bulletin of that institution. Industrial and business records will reach a low ebb this month because so many of the automobile plants and concerns dependent on that industry will be closed during the month that very low records for production and transportation will be established.

"The reasons for believing that business will be better in August than in July, and better in September than in August, do not rest merely upon a basis of general hope," Col. Ayres explains. "The automobile companies are definitely planning to increase their outputs in those two months, and the most important steel companies have orders received or in sight, sufficiently large to increase their production materially."

"The volume of new construction is slowly but persistently growing, and that industry seems able to hold its gains."

"We are seeing the kind of bond market that is most effective in aiding business recovery. It is a market that is demonstrating its ability to absorb increasingly great volumes of new floatations at gradually advancing prices. Markets having similar characteristics shared in the business recoveries following the depressions of 1908, 1921 and 1924.

"It is always the case in times of business depression, when the productive capacity of industry is over-capable to meet current demands, that the proceeds of new floatations are used to improve and increase capacity for output, and recovery emerges from this anomalous procedure."

"Wholesale prices of commodities have been declining almost without interruption for nearly a year. Their persistent weakness during recent months has led many people to conclude that conditions of general business cannot improve until the price declines are checked, and that downward revisions of industrial wage rates will have to be made before normal volumes of production can be restored. A consideration of the history of price changes in this country during the past few years does not support these conclusions."

"Probably it is not necessary to search among obscure economic influences to find the reasons for some of the most important of the recent price declines of staple articles entering into international trade."

"High interest rates in 1928, and actual credit stringency in 1929, caused by excessive security speculation in this country, but with effects seriously felt throughout the world, constitute a less direct but more far-reaching influence making for commodity price declines in recent months. These high interest rates hampered international trade and restricted international financing."

"This process must work itself through to completion, but the fact that it is going on does not mean that prices and wages are on their way down to pre-war levels. That could happen only through a great reduction in the volume of credit and money available for use, and no evidences of such a development are apparent or visibly impending. We may well feel justified in having confidence that the present precipitous price declines will prove to be temporary rather than protracted."

Bee-wax is a product of digestion and is secreted by worker bees in the form of tiny scales which appear between segments on the under-side of the abdomen.

It is supposed that bees use the lightest wood. It weighs about seven pounds to the square foot, or about half the weight of cork.

Within a half hour after the feeding of garlic to cows, the flavor and odor of it are perceptible in the milk.

CONTEST POWER RIGHTS ON PEND OREILLE RIVER

Reeves-Macdonald Co. Opposes Application of West Kootenay Power Co.

Dispute Arises Over Number and Location of Dams; Decision Reserved

Contesting the application of the West Kootenay Light and Power Co. for development of power on the Pend Oreille River, representatives of the Reeves-Macdonald Mining Company appeared before Major J. C. Macdonald, provincial controller of water rights, yesterday at the Parliament Buildings.

Lorne A. Campbell and F. Lucas appeared for the West Kootenay Power and Light Company, and Mr. Hosie and C. R. Yull for the Reeves-Macdonald Mining Company.

Mr. Lucas made formal application for the approval of the plans as presented, showing two dams. The West Kootenay Light and Power Company, he said, might or might not ask later for permission to amend the plans.

Mr. Hosie said that the objection rose from the belief that the development would not be carried out as planned. The question in dispute was the number and location of the dams on Cedar Creek and Seven Mile Creek. It would appear from the representations made that the power company would prefer to erect a single dam in the foundation conditions made this possible.

Decision was reserved.
